

DULUTH EVENING HERALD.

NR 1 YEAR.

FRIDAY, MARCH 11, 1892.

FIVE O'CLOCK EDITION.

THREE CENTS

A Duluth Clothing House Exclusively Owned and Controlled by Duluth Men.

ESTABLISHED 1881.

Our store is open every Monday and Saturday Evening and closed other evenings at 8:30 p. m.

The Spring Suit-what shall it be? A serious question to the young man whose hard-earned dollars are to be invested in the clothes. A question of doubt and fear-wearing clothes is serious business. If they don't fit or if they shock your taste, then the joy of life is discounted.

We have left the beaten track and taken higher notions in selecting materials for Nobby, Stylish Suits. The real Scotch Suitings are meeting with great favor this Spring. We have them at $15, $18, $20 up to $25.

For small boys we might tell stories of Suits at $3, and other grades, cheap but good-but you know it already. The special message today is of the three-piece Suits for little men, 3 to 9 years, cutaway jacket, vest and Knickerbockers $4 to $12.

The reputation of our Clothing Store is staked this season upon the advanced points of style and form of the garments we offer. The sales have doubled this month. Doesn't that show that we have struck the right chord? We think so.

The New Clothing space is Bright, Broad and Beautiful.

WILSON BROTHERS,
Men's Furnishing Goods and Shirts, CHICAGO.
Chicago, March 7, 1892.

Messrs. M. S. BURROWS & CO., Duluth, Minn.
Gentlemen:-We are in receipt of a letter from one of our Duluth customers, enclosing one of your circulars headed "Bulletin No. 3." We cannot but think that you issued this without fully realizing its far-reaching injury not only to our other customers, but to us as well. You do not mean to know that these goods cannot be sold at such price as you name, except at a loss, and that our other customers must look for other brands of Shirts unless they can be assured that a repetition of such action as this will not occur. In view of these facts, we must decline to supply you in the future, until such time as you can assure us that the goods will be sold at legitimate profits. Yours truly,

M. S. BURROWS.

Duluth, Minn., March 10, 1892.

Messrs. WILSON BROS., Chicago.
Dear Sirs:-We are in receipt of your favor of 7th inst., regarding Bulletin No. 3 issued by us, offering your White Shirts in our Special Saturday Sale at 99c, claiming we surely did not realize its far-reaching injury, not only to our customers, but to ourselves as well. In reply can only say we are not in business for the protection of Wilson Bros., nor their customers. Whatever goods we have ever bought from you we have always paid for promptly in ten days, taking advantage of all cash trade and quantity discounts, so as to enable us at all times to offer our goods to the public at the lowest possible margin. We note your remarks refusing to supply us in the future unless we can assure you that the goods will be sold at legitimate profits. Regarding same will say, as we are under no contract that we are aware of, and as we pay cash for our merchandise, we at least reserve the right to name the price at which we can dispose of what we consider our own property. We do not purpose letting Wilson Bros. operate our business for us, nor are we here to take care of our small competitors, but reserve the right to buy and sell as we feel disposed. Very respectfully, M. S. BURROWS & CO.

OLD BOREAS' BLOW

The Worst of Many Years Through the Northwest-Mercury Drops 50 Degrees.

Several Men Frozen to Death; School Children Missing; Buildings Blown Down.

The Blizzard is Now Howling Through Central and Northern New York.

ST. PAUL, March 11.-Many fatalities are reported as a result of the storm. At Jamestown, N. D., Frank Braithwaite with family were caught in the blizzard. He refused to go on and Braithwaite got out to lead them. He was frozen to death, but his family escaped by being crumpled in the snow. At Devils Lake, N. D., W. E. Griffin was found dead within 80 rods of the city. Near Marvel, N. D., Thomas Nugent, an old settler, was overtaken and was frozen in his wagon and both horses dead. At Grafton, N. D., a man, unidentified, and a woman were frozen to death. At Fort Dodge, Iowa, Thomas O'Connell was blown from his wagon and his neck broken. Nelson Blackner is missing. Searching parties are out after his body.

MANVEL, N. D., March 11.-Thomas Nugent, aged 65, the oldest settler in the vicinity, returning from Grand Falls on Tuesday night, was overtaken two miles from here by the storm. He was found yesterday morning, frozen in his wagon. The horses were both dead. At Grafton, N. D., a man and his team were frozen between that place and the depot of the Great Northern railway.

ST. LOUIS, March 11.-The steamer Crystal City reached here late last night 12 hours behind time. While coming up the river during the heavy gale, Wednesday night, the steamer encountered a veritable hurricane, opposite Kid's Landing, about 125 miles down the river. She was blown into a drift of ice and struck the bank with a shock that caused a panic among the passengers. The crew were taken out and the passengers, but the boat was forced to remain in her perilous position until morning. She then was towed out into the river again and the journey resumed. Very little damage was done.

OSWEGO, N. Y.-The blizzard has placed a complete stoppage on the town. It began yesterday at 4 o'clock and has steadily increased in violence. No trains or mails have arrived here today. Railroad cuts are full to the top. The railroad men can make no headway against the storm and the locomotives are stranded in the round house. The wind has been blowing at the rate of 52 miles per hour and the thermometer is down to 19.

WATERLOO, N. Y.-Blizzard weather has prevailed here and throughout Northern New York since 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Two feet of snow have fallen. The barometer is rapidly falling. The wind is almost suspended at 20 to 25 feet deep. Highways are impassable and no trains are running. Many school districts are closed. Sugar making and lumbering are at a standstill.

ROME, N. Y.-A howling blizzard is raging here. A foot of snow fell during last night and more is coming. The wind has driven the snow into huge drifts and travel is almost suspended except in the business streets of the city. At Bismarck, N. D., seventy-two miles an hour was the record. The blizzard wind Wednesday evening, the fastest since 1878, when seventy-four miles was the record.

AT LITCHFIELD, Minn., a number of buildings were unroofed, glass fronts to stores blown in and outside stairways broken. John Sheehan, a man who was convicted once of polygamy, but was pardoned by the President on his promise to obey the law, has not kept his word with the government. His third wife, a pretty woman of about 30 years of age, has confessed that the situation has become intolerable to her, and she has begged of her one-third husband to leave her. She recently became a member of the Good Templar society.

ST. PETER, Minn., reported the worst storm of 10 years. At several schools children missing. The storm was fully as bad as the storm of 1873, when there was such a loss of life and when so much stock perished.

AT BENSON, Minn., three windmills in the village were reported blown down, several small buildings have suffered, a like late and the streets are filled with signs and lumber from the yards, while fences and outbuildings lie in all directions.

AT FERGUS FALLS, Minn., the mercury fell about 70 degrees. Three blocks were unroofed, several plate glass windows were broken in, and a horse was seen on the street and the wind blew a hurricane.

QUAILA, Neb., reported the wind blowing at the rate of 60 miles an hour. Large plate glass windows were smashed, chimneys and trees blown down, small buildings were blown over and fences blown away.

FORT DODGE, Iowa, reported a number of casualties. Judge Weaver was blown from the sidewalk and had his leg broken. The tin roof of the Berry block was torn off. All over town plate glass windows and chimneys suffered. Four cars were blown off the track at Plover.

CROOKSTON, Minn., reported that the Northwestern hotel had the front blown in and the roof badly torn up, while several stores had their fronts destroyed and stocks damaged. The Odd Fellows hall at Aberdeen, S. D., was unroofed.

IN SIOUX CITY, Iowa, chimneys were blown off, plate glass windows blown in, and houses in course of erection were overturned and demolished. Small buildings were taken up and carried off by the gale. Damage to property was reported to the amount of several thousand dollars.

AUBURN, N. Y.-The worst blizzard experienced for years struck this city early yesterday afternoon and has continued with increasing violence today. Business has been almost entirely suspended. Auburn is completely hemmed in by huge snow drifts.

UTICA, N. Y., March 11.-A furious blizzard has been raging here since last evening. Traffic has been stopped on the streets almost wholly suspended. Fairs are entertained here for the safety of the city. The claims of the men from Tennessee who went north yesterday en route to Dr. Webb's railroad in the north woods.

SAILOR MURDERED.

Attacked When Helplessly Drunk in a New York Grog-Shop.

New York, March 11.-The Herald's Valparaiso correspondent says: Consul McCreery is investigating the case of Carlos Carlessen, a sailor on board the Edward Kidder, which arrived here on Feb. 2 from New York on the way to Antofagasta. Carlessen was found early on the morning of Feb. 21 lying in the Calle Blanco, suffering from a wound in the abdomen and in a stupid state from the effects of liquor. He was taken to a hospital and later in the day declared that he had been wounded by Valparaiso policemen and soldiers. The man died Feb. 27. The testimony taken by the Chilean authorities is to the effect that a policeman hearing Carlessen cry for help, ran to the scene and was set upon by three men clad in citizen's clothing, who knocked him broke and kicked him about the head. From testimony taken by the judge of crimes last Tuesday in the case of Carlos Carlessen, it appears that Carlessen was in a low grog about two years ago, when he was in the case of the Baltimore rioting took place. He was totally incapable of doing anything, and he was being forced to get him to leave the place proving unavailing, they left Carlessen on a bench among some trash and combers. They were gone about 10 minutes searching for a place to lay their companion, but when they returned Carlessen had disappeared. Carlessen was a native of Sweden. The Edward Kidder sails from Searport, Maine, on Monday. The consul has made a demand upon the Chilean authorities for an investigation of the affair.

DISCHARGED AS INNOCENT.

He Had Served Two Years and was Crippled by Breaking a Leg.

BRATTLE, Neb., March 11.-A case of peculiar interest and one seldom equaled was made public here yesterday through a decision of the supreme court. Two years ago, Charles R. Childs, a native of R. C. Childs of this county was convicted and sent to the penitentiary for two years on a charge of grand larceny. Wednesday after a long delay, the supreme court reversed the decision of the lower court and last evening Childs was brought here by Warden Malone. The case against the prisoner was nulled and he was ordered to leave the state. Childs had but two days of his sentence uncompleted when his release came, and the probable effect was exciting considerable comment. During his incarceration and while being worked on an ice field the prisoner had been broken down and was crippled, and he had been in the penitentiary for two years. This fact was made the basis for a suit for heavy damages against the prison contractor. The outcome of the case will be closely watched.

A FEATHER-HEADED POOL.

Mrs. Hetherington Goes to a Dinner Party the Very Night Her Husband Shoots Her Lover.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.-Advises from Japan about the Hetherington tragedy state that Mrs. Hetherington attended a dinner party at the residence of a Russian consul the night after the murder, clad in white tulle and diamonds, smiling and making merry with her guests. The dinner party was given by the consul. She did this against the protest of the admiral's wife, who even made a declaration which she finally did not send. The following conversation is reported as having occurred between the consul's wife and the admiral's wife: "I don't see why," replied Mrs. Hetherington, tossing her head. "Then I will explain to you," said Mrs. Belknap. "Can't you understand that while you and your husband are resting under the cloud of this terrible tragedy, it is better that you should keep yourself in the utmost privacy?" He killed Robinson; I did not.

MORMON RELAPSES IN POLYGAMY.

NEW YORK, March 11.-A special to the Sun from Denver says that Nicholas Roosevelt, a prominent Mormon, who was convicted once of polygamy, but was pardoned by the President on his promise to obey the law, has not kept his word with the government. His third wife, a pretty woman of about 30 years of age, has confessed that the situation has become intolerable to her, and she has begged of her one-third husband to leave her. She recently became a member of the Good Templar society.

LOSS AT WAVERLY, ILL.

WEEKLY, Ill., March 11.-On Dec. 25 the west side of the city square a fire was burned by an incendiary. Last night fire started in Fleming's grocery and destroyed that building and the stores of John Sheehan, J. A. Vrooman and Meacham, druggist. W. C. Fleming barely escaped with his life. The loss will reach $200,000, partially insured.

QUAY SUIT SERIOUSLY ILL.

PHILADELPHIA, March 11.-A telegram from Florida to Gen. Frank Rader states that Senator Quay will not leave for the North this week because of the serious condition of his health. Gen. Rader says that the senator has been very ill from an unusually severe attack of lung trouble.

MINING HORROR.

Frightful Colliery Explosion at Anderlues, Belgium: 300 Miners Entombed.

Only Three of the 300 Rescued; Intense Excitement; Thousands Thronging In.

A Multitude Bewailing Lost Fathers, Sons and Husbands; Pathetic Scenes at the Pit.

BRUSSELS, March 11.-A frightful colliery disaster has occurred at Anderlues. Three hundred miners are entombed in the pit and a series of explosions has apparently cut off all access to them. An attempt has been made to reach the imprisoned miners, but so far without success. The explorers have been beaten back by the foul fumes. The shafting and ventilation are destroyed. Three female miners have been rescued and it seems almost certain that all the rest are dead. Intense excitement prevails and thousands are thronging to the place which is one of the leading mining centers of Belgium. The scenes at the pit mouth are most pathetic, a multitude of people bewailing their relatives supposed to have perished in the mine. Thirty of the entombed miners have been rescued. Five corpses have so far been recovered.

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND.

Extract from the Papal Organ at Rome Denying Charges.

ROME, March 11.-The following is the text of the article in the Osservatore Romano, the papal organ, sustaining Archbishop Ireland:

"Some German and Italian libel papers have tried to find in the writings and acts of Archbishop Ireland support for their ideas and doctrines. They pretend that the distinguished American prelate disagrees with the Vatican on the most important question now agitating religious and civil society, and they publish extracts from an oration which they pretend that Archbishop Ireland delivered at Baltimore in 1889, claiming to see therein an attack on the temporal power of the pope. These papers deceive their readers; perhaps they were deceived themselves. The views attributed to Archbishop Ireland were the fictions of a protestant writer in the Pall Mall Gazette in December, 1889, who reported Archbishop Ireland's speech with the addition of his own fantastic comments. Continental journals translated the article ascribing the views of it to Archbishop Ireland. It is the question which is the more wonderful, the bold effrontery or the surprising folly of such journals. If they wish to know Archbishop Ireland's real sentiments toward the holy see and its independence they should read the remarkable speech which the archbishop delivered at St. Paul, Minn., on the occasion of the jubilee of his holiness, Pope Leo XIII.

"The speech bears evidence of having been entirely a spontaneous effusion of the heart without the pressure of any interests upon the speaker and it is only truth and justice. Moreover, to Archbishop Ireland to say that he energetically supported the beautiful and strong resolutions adopted in 1889, 'on or before' in favor of the temporal power, The facts abundantly prove that there is no ground on which to charge Archbishop Ireland with the policy of peace and conciliation. The British Press on Bering Sea.

LONDON, March 11.-The Bering sea question continues to be a leading topic of discussion. The Manchester Guardian (independent), in an editorial article derides the claim of a mare clausum over the Bering sea, and expresses the desire of Americans to a just settlement of the Bering sea question and that they do not agree with the tone adopted by Mr. Blaine. The Guardian says that the America of Adams and of Lincoln is behind Mr. Blaine. The Manchester Guardian hopes that Lord Salisbury will agree to a modus vivendi with the view of appealing to the sound sense of the American people.

The Standard Oil Trust to Dissolve.

NEW YORK, March 11.-Mr. S. T. Dodd, solicitor for the Standard Oil trust, says: "We have no intention of reorganizing the trust. Our purpose is to dissolve. The manner in which the trust shall be wound up depends largely upon the certificate holders. They will fix the time when the trust shall be wound up. That is if they determine that that shall be done and under the trust deed the trustees shall make the distribution of the trust property in the mode directed."

Oxford Theater Burnt.

LONDON, March 11.-The new theater at Oxford used chiefly for university plays has been partially destroyed by fire. The stage was completely burned and the remainder of the building badly damaged. No personal casualties are reported.

Murder Confessed.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 11.-It is stated that a Bulgarian has been arrested on the charge of connection with the murder of Dr. Vukovich, the Bulgarian agent to the Porte, and has confessed that the Odessa committee of Bulgarian refugees had commissioned him to commit the murder. He refused to carry out the crime, but which was afterward perpetrated by two Russians whose names he does not know.

SENATE.

Amendment Prohibiting Re-election of President; Tariff Speech.

WASHINGTON, March 11.-Mr. Stewart, of Nevada, offered a joint resolution providing for a constitutional amendment that no person who has held the office of president of the United States for a term of four years or any part thereof shall be eligible to that office within four years after the expiration of that time, this amendment to take effect after the 4th of March, 1897. He suggested that the resolution be referred to the committee on civil service reform and re-employment. It was so ordered.

Mr. Daniel offered a joint resolution confirming on the part of the United States the rights granted by the states of South Carolina and Virginia to the French Telegraph company. Referred.

Mr. Dolph, on obtaining the floor called up Senator Stanford's sound circulating medium resolution delivered a lengthy prepared tariff speech having special reference to the agricultural interests of the country. He said the senate had recently heard the story of the alleged wrongs of farmers which is repeated with little variation from Maine to Oregon, told with elaboration and rounded periods by the senior senator from Kansas (Mr. Teller).

TARIFF IN THE HOUSE.

Stevens, of Massachusetts, Speaks in Favor of Free Wool.

Mr. McMillin asked unanimous consent that private bill day be dispensed with in view of the tariff discussion and the two hours tomorrow previous to the adjournment of the house be devoted to the consideration of private bills.

The house then went into committee of the whole on the free wool bill. Mr. Stevens, (dem.) of Massachusetts, spoke, from the standpoint of the manufacturer. Reduced taxes and lower prices, he said, always meant increased consumption. Free wool meant lower prices, better goods-the one was the equivalent of the other and the American people would have reason to complain if the conditions did not ensue. While American manufacturers maintained their high standard of enterprise and workmanship there was nothing to be feared from foreign competition.

Quoting from leading manufacturers of the country he showed that the free wool bill was satisfactory to them. The bill proposed was an immense boon to manufacturers and was one of universal benefit. The bill represented as wise a distribution of duties as could be made. If the bill was passed it would result in infinite good to the people. (Applause.)

Mr. Montgomery, democrat, of Kentucky, followed with a long argument in support of the bill.

Member of Parliament Sentenced.

LONDON, March 11.-George Woody, of Hastings, unionist member of parliament for East Worcestershire, was sentenced to five years at hard labor for embezzling £15,000 from the estate of John Brown, of which he was trustee.

The Government Beaten.

LONDON, March 11.-The house of commons has rejected by a vote of 154 to 149 the Mombasa railway concession which was supported by the government. The reason given is that the directors of the East Africa company are peculiarly interested in the scheme.

U. S. District Attorney in Connecticut.

WASHINGTON, March 11.-The President sent to the senate today the nomination of George F. McLean, of Connecticut, to be attorney of the United States for the district of Connecticut, vice Geo. G. Sill (term expired).

For Wisconsin: Warmer; fair weather, but with increased cloudiness; southwesterly winds.

A RESIGNATION NEEDED.

The only way Julius D. Howard, postmaster of Duluth, can convince the public he has a spark of manhood left, is by immediately forwarding his resignation to Washington. The events of yesterday prove that he is an official idiot or a perjurer, and in either case disqualified for the place which President Harrison was misled to confer upon him.
He may interview himself and try to explain away his embarrassment, but an intelligent people will refuse to believe a man who, by the records of his own office, has lied on the witness stand, willfully undertaking to throw a young man into prison and cover him with moral leprosy for life.W. F. Henry had, until last summer, been assistant postmaster here for five or six years. At that time he resigned to take the position of clerk to the board of public works. Soon thereafter he and two other postoffice employees, on the testimony of Postmaster Howard and Inpector Childs, were indicted by the United States grand jury at Minneapolis for irregularities. The board of works dropped Mr. Henry at once, and the indictment has caused him much financial loss besides that of reputation. The subordinates were acquitted some months ago, but Henry's trial was continued till March. The request that he be held in Duluth was refused, the inspectors and postmaster having decided that their kind of justice could not be secured where Mr. Henry was so favorably known. But it came up in Minneapolis this week and Mr. Henry was there to confront his accusers. Three indictments had been found, only one of which was known to Mr. Henry or his attorney. Two were quashed, and he was tried on the third, the charge being that he had destroyed the stubs of box receipts for the quarters ending December 31, 1891, and March 31, 1892.
Postmaster Howard swore that these stubs had been destroyed and that Henry had confessed to destroying them.
The inspector's testimony and that of another employee was in substance the same. Henry denied that he had done either. All agreed that the accounts were straight and that Henry didn't owe the department a cent. There was no apparent object for destroying the stubs, but the swearing was strong and the jury Wednesday evening brought in a verdict of guilty.At this point the case assumed a new phase. Henry's attorney, E. A. Cropp-bell, being convinced of his client's innocence and that the stubs were in the Duluth postoffice, laid the matter before the judge and hastened to Duluth.
Henry was permitted to come with him.
Accompanied by John D. Gill, who had been Henry's attorney here, by Mayor d'Autremont, and by several prominent Republicans, among them ex-Mayor John B. Stuphin, C. A. Towne and E. L.
Fisher, they went to the postoffice at 6 o'clock last night and there, all covered with dust and undisturbed, among others of their kind, found the stubs Postmaster Howard and others had sworn were destroyed.It is presumed Judge Nelson, who had reserved sentence, will set the verdict aside today, and it is hoped by citizens of all parties that President Harrison will likewise set Postmaster Howard aside very soon. To retain him in his present position is an insult to every honest citizen of Duluth, not to mention the discredit to the party to which he belongs. Himself rich, he willingly lends his position and influence to crush a young man whose only capital is his standing among his fellows, and without remorse would swear an innocent victim behind the bars of a penitentiary. Possibly there is something lower and more contemptible than this, but it has never been discovered in the West nor worn the official seal of the republic.An important measure of retaliation has been introduced in the Senate by Mr. Morgan, of Alabama. His bill proposes to abrogate the privilege of bonding now allowed Canadian shippers of foreign freights through which they practically ship from our ports as if they were their own. Very this privilege withdrawn, after the St. Lawrence is frozen, their traffic would be compelled to take so long a circuit by rail as to make the expense extremely onerous.This mode of retaliation has been frequently pressed before, but New England and the Northwest have opposed it, since these have corresponding privileges for shipment of freights through Canada, which are of great value to us.
Such an embargo of traffic would in fact be almost a war measure and is not likely to be adopted except in the greatest extremity.

AN ALLIANCE DEMOCRACY.

If Monday's vote on free-coinage fairly indicates the views of the present Democratic majority in the house of representatives, it shows a proportion of nearly two to one of the Democratic members in favor of that measure. That means, in effect, that a large part of the Southern and Western Democrats are ready to surrender to the Alliance, and join it in a crusade for the substitution of the silver dollar for the gold dollar as the basis of all values.The logical result of such action would be, if the house of representatives is a truly representative body, to rearrange parties on an entirely new basis. Whatever those parties might be named, they would be in reality a farmers' party, controlling the South and a part of the West, and a stable currency party, including with the East all states where business, capital and manufactures, are strong and where the dangers of tampering with a sound currency are understood.The St. Louis platform would become the platform of the new party, so far as present issues are concerned.
Free silver coinage would be the leading question in the coming campaign. All other issues would be subordinate.
There is no middle course possible. If the present House really represents the Democratic party, the repudiation of Cleveland follows as a matter of course, and the nomination of a free silver candidate. And if the Democratic party is really a free coinage party, it can gain nothing by disguises. Its surrender to the Alliance will be the more likely to bring success the franker and more complete it becomes. Capital is sensitive and intelligent, and it cannot be deceived. It will strike its hardest at any party, under whatever name, which attacks our present currency.What would be the present chances of victory for an Alliance-Democracy? New Jersey would be the only Eastern state it could possibly carry. Ohio has already declared against it. Could such a party carry Indiana or Illinois? It could hardly be expected. It must not be forgotten that the dropping of the currency to the silver dollar basis, would not only debate it, the fluctuations of the bullion value of silver render it unstable as the basis of any currency. It would not only temporarily but permanently un-settle business and business values everywhere. The scheme is not only dishonest, it is impracticable.A "campaign of education" on that issue could not fail to turn every Northwestern state not engaged in silver mining against so crazy a measure. Is it not evident, indeed, that the Northwest is the pit the Democrats of the House are digging for themselves and for their party?The recent sentence of Mrs. Osborne in a London court was such a distressful picture as is seldom painted in or out of fiction. Never was there a criminal who seemed to deserve punishment or more severe punishment than this conscienceless butterfly of fashion. She was ready to sacrifice anything, and to gratify her passion for luxury and show. She turned against her friend. She humiliated her chivalrous husband to the dust.
Yet one could not but feel pity for her as well as the profoundest compassion for her husband as she was taken fainting to a prisoner's cell.A curious story appears in the papers about a New Zealand bishop who had himself hoisted up 200 feet in a chair to the top of the spire of his new church, and there read the "appropriate ritual for consecrating the top-stone of a spire." Where the appropriate ritual to celebrate such a crazy feat is to be found, we are not informed. The whole story looks like the work of the "enterprising reporter."George and Austin Bidwell, the forgers who claim to have taken a million pounds from the Bank of England by adroit forgeries are in Chicago, and propose to lecture there. They were caught, and served, one 15 and one 10 years, in English prisons. What sort of a moral entertainment they propose to give, does not appear. Probably they expect merely to trade on their notoriety.The Bering Sea difficulty is getting into a very bad shape. There will be more sealers seized, more protests and possibly serious collisions unless some arrangement can be reached. One great trouble is that the Salisbury government is pretty sure to go out of power soon, and will not object to leaving a difficult foreign question on the hands of their successors.The first number of the Mesaba Range News, published at Merritt by Hand & Doyle, has appeared. It is a seven column, four page sheet, brimful of mining matters, and will prove interesting to all concerned in developments on the Mesaba.The overwhelming defeat of the Tories in the election of London councils has an important bearing on the general election soon coming. It means an immense Liberal majority in London whenever that election occurs.The weather was pretty demonstra-tively early in the week, but is becoming more modest now so that mining developments have resumed their old activity.The Tribune talks out this morning in a way that makes one think it is almost as non-partisan as The Herald.Do we understand the News to endorse perjury if it is committed by its friends?

Will Take Cleveland Only.

[St. Louis Heraldic.] We will take Cleveland only. Not because we idolize him, for we do not. Were he President now he would meet active an-tagonism from Western democrats as he did before. We are not here worshippers out here. We dissent from Mr.
Cleveland on some things and are prepared to dissent strongly when it seems pertinent to do so. But we know the man. We know he is not a liar, a trickster, a hypocrite, a knave. He does not take us for fools and try to play confidence games on us. He speaks out boldly and fearlessly and we know just what to expect from him. And on what concerns us most he is with us to the finish, without regard to whether it advances his personal interest or not. If New York would like him to us, we will take him. Otherwise we will take no New Yorker whatever.

The Kindness of the Council Committee to Mr. Shaw.

Two important meetings of council committees were held at the city hall this morning. One committee which met was that on officers and offices and they were called to consider the appointments made by Mayor d'Astremont last Monday. All three appointments were considered. The conclusions of the committee, of course, will not be made public until the next council meeting but what they decided upon is fairly well understood. They will report against confirming J. K. Shaw, but it is hardly probable that the majority of the council will take their view. For the reason that the responsibility in any case will rest with the mayor and it is not good policy to interfere with his work. The action of the committee in the case of Mr. Shaw will not be a surprise as it is understood that N. F. Hugo was made chairman of the committee for the express purpose of seeing that an adverse report was made in the case of the nominee for assessor.

Horgan as chief they will recommend should be confirmed. In this connection it is said again today that Horgan will, after confirmation, decline to accept the position tendered. The rumor is a well substantiated one, but is hardly likely to prove true. Horgan has expressed no direct intention for publication, but he will undoubtedly accept, for the reason that for him to decline would be an injustice to the officers under him, all of whom will probably profit by his promotion.

Capt. Farrell, as a member of the board of public works, will probably receive the approval of the committee, but he also may be turned down. But the action of the committee is by no means final.

The finance committee this morning considered the proposals for taking improvement certificates for $200,000. It is probable that the bid of Clague & Prindle will be accepted.

POSTOFFICE POW WOW

The Stubs Sworn to Have Been Destroyed Are Found in the Vaults of the Office.

Henry and his Attorney Came Up to Make the Search and Others Helped Them.

They Returned to Minneapolis Last Night to Await the Judge's Action Next Wednesday.

The many friends of ex-Assistant Postmaster W. F. Henry were very much surprised to learn that he had been found guilty, in the United States district court at Minneapolis Wednesday evening, of destroying the stubs of box rent receipts for the last quarter in 1890 and the first in 1891. Two other indictments had been quashed, and this was one of which neither he nor his attorney, E. A. Campbell, had any previous knowledge. The nature of the swearing by Postmaster Howard, Inspector Childs, and Clerk Dunn, given in these columns yesterday. The jury, it seems, was out four or five hours before returning a verdict of guilty, and it was the weather as much as the evidence that brought about such result. Night was drawing on with a bitter snowstorm blowing and as the jurors wanted to get home an agreement was reached, including a recommendation of mercy to the court. It is said that at first seven were for acquittal.

Judge Nelson reserved sentence, and Mr. Campbell, fully convinced of Henry's innocence of the charge, decided to come to Duluth and see if the records alleged to have been destroyed could not be found in the archives of the post office. Accompanied by Mr. Henry, he started for this city Wednesday night, but the snow so delayed the train that they did not arrive until 4 o'clock last evening. They immediately arranged with several prominent citizens to go with them to the post office and request permission to search for the stubs.

Postmaster Howard was not at his office, but soon after 5 o'clock Assistant Postmaster Hughes was seen and an appointment made to call at 6 o'clock. At that hour Attorneys E. A. Campbell and J. D. Gill, Mayor John B. Sutphin, C. A. Towne and E. L. Fisher went to the postoffice and were granted permission to look through the vaults. Mr. Towne, who was very busy with legal matters before leaving for St. Paul, then withdrew, but the rest remained and the desired records were soon found among others in the vault. They were so covered with dust as to indicate they had not been disturbed for some time, and every indication was that they had been there many months.

Postmaster Howard had not yet been seen, but Attorney Campbell met him a little later in the Spaulding hotel and asked him if he didn't think those stubs could be found in his office. The postmaster was very positive they were not there, and when asked if he would make affidavit to that effect, expressed a willingness to make several. He was then informed that they had already been replaced by the stubs of this indictment until the case was called. The outcome of the affair puts the postmaster in a very awkward position, it being the general comment that he is unfit for the place and should step down and out. However, it is quite as generally thought he is too miserly to do so, and that nothing but a hint from headquarters could secure so happy a result.

Henry and his attorney left for St. Paul again last night, and it is expected that the verdict will be set aside today. Now that the postmaster, to justify his course, has a personal object in blackening the character of his late assistant, whatever he may say in the matter is likely to be given but little weight. One who will swear falsely when the liberty and happiness of his fellow is to be lost by it, could, it is said, do almost anything to gain a personal end.

The Law's Delay.

A special telegram from Minneapolis to The Herald at 2 p. m. today says: "The judge will make no decision until next Wednesday."

Remember the bargain sale of Wilson Bros. ties advertised on first page, by M. S. Burrows & Co., and be on hand early. Ties that retail for $1.50, $1.25, $1 and 75 cents will at this sale all go for 30 cents.

A Far-Reaching Effect.

The attention of Duluthians is called to the advertisement of M. S. Burrows & Co., which appears on the first page of The Herald today, in which the above firm is upbraided for selling Wilson Bros. goods too cheap, and are threatened by the well-known Chicago house that they will sell them no more goods if they insist on cutting prices. The tariff of M. S. Burrows & Co. to the effect that they buy their goods for cash and will sell them at whatever price they may feel disposed, is right to the point and is worthy of praise. It is also followed with a bold defiance to Wilson Bros. that they mean what they say, by offering Wilson Bros. ties, such as they retail at their Chicago store for $1.50, $1.25, $1 and 75 cents, for 30 cents each. This is no doubt the best opportunity ever offered to buy cheap neckwear, and most everyone wanting anything in the above line will embrace this chance of securing these goods away below cost of manufacture.

THE MARKETS.

Wheat Fairly Active and Firm at the Close in the Local Market Today.

Early cables were fairly steady with reports of lower prices in some instances and brought buying orders. There was a fairly active market here in the forenoon in the May future chiefly on outside orders. Chicago shorts bought heavily on the decline. Up to noon prices went down 7/8c on bid figures. The afternoon session was a dull and waiting one, but prices after 11:40 held quite steady and firm. The close was firm.

Cash No. 1 hard wheat closed at 83 1/2c. Cash No. 1 northern track wheat 84 1/2c. Cash No. 1 northern closed steady at 83 1/2c. Cash No. 2 northern ruled dull, closing at 74 1/2c. Cash No. 3, spring closed dull at 69 1/2c. Rejected wheat had excellent demand late in the session, closing firm at 50c bid, 1/2c advance. March No. 1 hard closed steady at 83c. New York—Money 1/2 @ 1/2 cent.

The market opened generally lower, St. Paul being down 3/8c on the passing of the dividend. The dealings were chiefly of a professional character. St. Paul and sugar soon developed a firm tone and advanced fractionally. Late in the hour leading took the lead, advancing 1/8c per cent. This strengthened the whole market and at 11 o'clock prices were only slightly changed from those of yesterday. After 11 o'clock the market took a free possession of the trading on the news that the legislature of New Jersey had passed a bill legalizing the coal deal. Reading advanced 3/8c per cent. Lackawanna 1/2c and Delaware & Hudson 2 1/2c. The sugar trusts were also strong and fractionally higher at noon. At this writing the market is less active and easier. Morning sales, 200,000 shares.

AMUSEMENTS.

Maggie Mitchell in "The Little Mave-rick".

Maggie Mitchell drew a large house at the Temple last evening. Of her the kindest thing that one can say is that she has been great. Her most ardent admirer could not deny the fact that the figure of the effects of time are apparent. She is a pleasing actress yet, and a portion at least of the old witching charm still remains, and she dances as if years were unknown to her. Maggie Mitchell as the Little Mave-rick was pleasing but incongruous. The play produced is a great improvement on "Roy," which was played here last winter. It has more of interest and is better than any other perhaps almost as hackneyed in idea. The company is good but not specially strong. The women outside of the star are weak, and Lady Kenwood seems hardly up to the proud role assigned her. Of the men, Sheridan Tupper as Carson, the thieving agent, was probably the strongest. His work was smooth, intelligent and excellent. This was a difficult part, developed at its full strength, never over-acted. Harry Smith as Lord Kenwood made a pleasing and graceful hero and was equally to the demands upon him. R. F. McClannan made a good but somewhat conventional Western cattle king. H. D. Blakemoore as Shone McRae gave considerable prominence to an unimportant part. The same bill will be repeated to-night.

ANOTHER APPOINTMENT.

Mayor d'Auteuromt Names an Official for the East End. Mayor d'Auteuromt has made another appointment and under circumstances which will reflect considerable credit to him. The poundmaster at the east end has been Mr. Macey, who, it is said, has only this employment to depend upon. For some time he has been seriously ill and the fact that under the new administration he was likely to have a successor, has worried over the matter until it had become a question as to whether he would recover at all. The facts came to the knowledge of Mayor d'Auteuromt and immediately he sent word to the sick man that he had been reappointed and would hold his old position under the new regime. The mayor has not yet named his private secretary but the appointee, by those who know, is said to be Mr. Ardoun. On the board of five commissioners it is said that Mr. Upham, the retiring member, will succeed himself.

An Oversight. To the Editor of The Herald:

While the car line has done its level best to clear the road, might not the suburbanites on the motor line be accommodated with at least one bus a day each way (we are easy in one request). Charge what you please but do oblige the old and young. It would keep real estate up if it was known that these emergencies were provided for.

IRON MATTERS MOVING.

The Weather is Softening Down and Meters Are Getting Summer Supplies Into the Woods.

A Few More New Companies Organized and the Stock Exchange Getting Nourished Ready for Business.

An Iron Palace to Be Built at Chicago and Every Company to Have Shares There.

There is again today some little activity in iron stocks and the crowd which, for several days was snowbound, has begun once more to collect about the Chamber of Commerce. The excitement is nothing to what it was some days ago but it is again on the increase, and may in short time be back to its old stage.

The Donald Grant Mining company has filed its articles of incorporation with the register of deeds. The incorporators are Donald Grant, Timothy Foley and Moses E. Clapp. The capital is $50,000. This will be a land and exploring company rather than a mining company. There are some other companies which will complete their organization within a short time. On the range the amount of development work being done is increasing rapidly. Several new crews have gone out in the past few days. The storm of this week did some damage but not a great deal. About two inches of snow fell but it drifted very badly. It will be a great aid in conveying supplies.

The recently organized Dayton Iron Mining company will immediately begin the work of prospecting on its property in section 23, 29-15, lying between the station of Mesaba and the Bwabik mine. Dr. J. K. Brainerd, president of the treasury stock on sale, John C. Temple of Dayton, Ohio, president of the company will conduct the explorations in person.

A part of the treasury stock of the Constock Mining company will be put upon the market and will doubtless meet with a ready sale. The company is one of the strongest on the range. The men interested in the incorporation of the company are a guarantee of its stability. Among the incorporators are A. D. Thomson, C. A. Pillsbury and F. W. Merritt. Their names have given the company a strong standing among the prospectors of the range. The stock proposals for $100,000 of the stock have been received from Eastern capitalists who have faith in the men back of the venture. S. H. Winchell is also interested in the company and his reputation has aided in giving it excellent standing. At home the company has the same good standing as in the East, due perhaps as much to the connection of the name of F. W. Merritt as anything else.

In its holdings, too, the company is among the strongest on the range. It owns in fee over 1000 acres, as much or more than any other single company yet organized, and explorations have already shown ore upon four of its 100 acres. The capital stock of the company is $50,000 and its officers are A. D. Thomson, president, F. W. Merritt, vice president, G. H. Elder, treasurer, and G. T. Porter, secretary.

Dr. J. K. Brainerd, of Brainerd, was in town today buying an outfit and supplies for the Dayton Iron company's crew of men who will be put at work in section 23, 29-15, only six miles from Mesaba station Monday. St. Paul men interested in properties in 29-15, both east and west of the Dayton, have just shipped in $13,000 for developments, and thus the good work goes on. J. C. Temple, of Dayton, Ohio, has been the practical mining dynamiter, is president of the Dayton company and will have charge of the developments.

The Buckeye folks shipped a car load of horses and six months' supplies for a crew of men to Grand Rapids yesterday. The work will light it out on that line it takes all summer. A vast amount of work will be done this season on their lands in St. Louis and Inas counties. This is one of the biggest companies on the range and, like the Ohio company, has ex-governor James E. Campbell of Buckeye, among its incorporators.

The Cosmopolitan Iron company, which recently made its hematite debut, is feeling good today with several pits bottomed in ore. This company controls about 1000 acres leased from A. M. Miller, its best properties being in section 8, 58-18, and section 34, 59-18. John McKinley is one of the moving spirits, but there are no deadheads in the enterprise, and the boys are satisfied they have a good thing.

The Mesaba Monarch Iron company filed its articles today. The incorporators are L. Merritt, R. H. Jewett and W. F. Jewett. The capital is $50,000. The mining exchange managers are expediting things as much as possible and will be ready for business as soon as their rooms are fitted up. In the meantime their articles of incorporation are being amended, and the exchange will be in good form very soon. There seems to be a little danger that membership and listing fees may be put so high or such conditions imposed as will result in other exchanges doing much of the trading. This, it is urged by some, needs to be guarded against, to the end that practically the entire trading may be done on its floors. The one essential point is to list only good properties, and it is pointed out that big fees do not prevent big frauds.

In connection with the iron developments comes the plan for an iron palace as a feature of the Minnesota state building at the Columbian exposition. Commissioner Moore returned today from St. Paul where he met the state committee of the World's fair. He is much enthused with the great work before him and will spare no effort to give Duluth the highest recognition. It is his idea that the iron palace be trimmed with the different varieties of building stone found in the state, such as those at Hinsdale, Kettle River, Mankato, St. Cloud, and Kasota, while Carlton county can furnish the necessary slate shingle for roofing. All the Minnesota mining companies would be properly represented with samples of their ores, and thus this joyous realm would bound along or richochet to glory. To carry out these plans it will be necessary for St. Louis county to raise $7500, her share of the $100,000 to be subscribed by the people of the state. Duluthians are urged to make short work of this little matter, and as the iron interests are the ones to receive the greatest and most direct benefit, those who are just now enjoying a harvest will be expected to chip in for the general good. The outlook in every direction is very pellucid.

THE MARKETS.

May Wheat Reaches the Lowest Point For the Crop Year.

A weaker market prevailed early today. The decrease in prices, however, was comparatively small. The weaker opening was due to dull and weaker foreign markets and bearish crop reports. The exports of the country show a large increase for the past week, namely 3,754,000 bu, against 2,908,000 bu for last week. The increase in the stocks of wheat in Duluth for the past week is estimated at about 380,000 bu. Prices on May wheat reached the lowest point today both here and in Chicago during this crop year.

Cash No. 1 hard closed steady at 83 1/4 c, track neglected at 84 1/4 c. Cash No. 1 northern wheat had little demand, closing dull at 81 1/4 c, track wheat 83 1/4 c. Cash No. 2 northern closed dull at 74 1/4 c. Cash No. 3 spring closed at 75 c. Rejected wheat closed dull at 59 c. March No. 1 hard closed at 83 c. March No. 1 northern closed dull, closing neglected at 81 1/4 c. May No. 1 hard closed firm at 87 1/4 c bid. May No. 1 northern sold at 85 1/4 c, but declined to 85 1/4 c, followed by a gain of 5 c. Close on a very dull market at 85 1/4 c bid. Millstuffs closed at unchanged figures, $12.50 for bran and middlings. Flax closed at 92 c for cash and 92 1/4 c for May.

The Weather.
U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., March 14.—An area of high pressure covers the entire country with a maximum barometer reading of 31 inches over Manitoba.

Light snow is falling at scattered places and still continues over West and Southwest. A medium cold wave is coming from the Northwest, and has extended as far south as Illinois. It is accompanied by very low temperatures, the lowest being 15° below at Qu Appelle. The highest point today was 18° from that it fell gradually until this morning when it reached 17° below.

Duluth, March 14.—Local forecast for Duluth until 8 a. m. March 15: Fair, slightly colder; slowly rising temperature. B. H. HENSON, Observer.

IRON ORE IN DULUTH.

The opening up of the Mesaba range and the building of the Mesaba railway, which is to be completed by August 1, or in little more than four months, means very much to Duluth. As lower lake markets will fix the price of ore, it is easy to be seen that Duluth furnaces will secure their supplies at the lower lake price, less the freight charge, insurance, commission, and other expenses of shipment. Then, too, as the local furnaces would use a large amount of ore during the winter when the lake is closed, some additional advantage would accrue from this. And as the freight rate to lower lake points is about $1.25 per ton, Duluth furnaces would have an advantage over their Eastern competitors of $1.50 to $2.00 per ton, which is a sufficient bonus to insure the success of any iron manufacturing industry when once established.

For the trade at all points equally distant from Duluth and Chicago this would be a clear profit to the manufacturer, and for Northwest points nearer Duluth than Chicago we should have the additional advantage of cheaper freights to reach them. For the vast and rapidly developing country to the westward, Duluth manufacturers would have an advantage of $4 or $5 a ton on the finished product. This would be a perpetual bonus for such enterprises here, and with an improving iron market is sure to bring them. With ores at $5.50 in Cleveland and $4.00 here, which is a very modest statement of the case, a furnace using two thousand tons a week would save $15,000 a year, or 10 per cent on $150,000, which is no small argument in determining the location of such an industry. And if to this we add a saving of $2 a ton freight on half that amount of manufactured iron for inland points beyond us, we shall make a pretty strong case for Duluth as the future iron center of the West. The one factor that weighs against us, is that of labor, which is somewhat higher here than at eastern points. This is, indeed, an important factor, but one that is much more than offset by the advantages of location. But for the present sluggish condition of the iron market, factories would spring up here without number, and the fact being established that this is a natural center for iron manufacture, factories will soon be established here, though those in less favored locations may have to put out their fires.

DEEP WATERWAYS.

Commenting on the effort to procure larger appropriations for deepening the waterways through the lakes, and on the opposition to it, the Chicago News recently stated its belief that "if the present works at the Sault and on the St. Clair river are continued and completed the advocates of deep waterways will have to be content for the present. This is brought about by two main causes—the demand for economy in congress and the opposition to deep waterways by special lake interests."

Since the above was printed the petition of over 100 congressmen for the appropriation of about $3,500,000 for deepening the channels referred to as proposed by Gen. Poe, has reached us by telegraph. This shows an immense backing for the improvement—one that would seem strong enough to secure its success for all that is now asked at the present session of congress.

It is evident, too, that the strength of the opposition has been greatly exaggerated. Those engaged in introducing the whaleback, type of vessel into lake traffic have printed repeated denials of the statement that they were opposing the movement for deeper channels, while the owners of smaller craft are constantly building larger vessels and will soon accommodate themselves to the new conditions. On the whole, present prospects are most encouraging.

The horrible accounts which come from Russia of the famine there shows not only the present destitution but the constant poverty which prevails there. It is only in certain portions of civilized Europe that poverty is so extreme as to lead to famine. In the mid-ages a bad season was very generally followed by a famine; the famine, by a pestilence. The two would sometimes sweep a country, even a continent, of half its population. Now the same thing frequently happens in India, in China, in Asiatic Turkey. It has not so often occurred in Russia, in Ireland, in Hungary, but often enough to indicate the gross misgovernment which usually occasions it. Europe will be fortunate if the pestilence which usually succeeds such famines as we are now reading of in Russia, does not extend to the more fortunate portions of the Continent.

EASTERN DIVISION.

Of all the low-tariff papers in the country there is none so thoroughly devoted to the tariff issue as the New York Evening Post. Yet it says:

"If the silver question is an issue at all, it will be the overshadowing and controlling one. It will be so because it does not admit of dallying or postponement. The tariff question we have had with us for a hundred years, more or less. A few years more will not make much difference in the total. The silver question has such sudden and tremendous consequences that the people will and must make it paramount to everything else."

West and Southern congressmen seem unable to understand how completely a slippery platform, or a slippery candidate, will wipe out the Eastern Democracy in the coming campaign. They will practically fail to appear in the election returns. Yet half the Democrats in congress seem to think they can play fast and loose with the currency, juggle with and make the issue a subordinate one. That is impossible. We think they are also grandly mistaken about the South and West. The East they must give up, and they will find it an East that has its boundary on the Mississippi River.

The "progressives" in the contest for the London county council demanded that the public streets and their uses for public purposes, such as street railways, gas and water service, telephonic and electric wires or cables, etc., etc., should be reserved to, and the services named should be performed by the municipality. It was on such a platform that the election was won by immense majorities. The Chicago Press calls attention to the fact that at the very time the people of London were moving west such power for the protection of popular interests, the city government of Chicago were giving away similar rights in perpetuity to a private corporation.

It greatly raises our opinion of Governor McKinley, of Ohio, to find him opposing the gerrymander of that state proposed by its Republican legislature. True, the state had been frightfully gerrymandered by the Democrats only two years ago, as it had been previously gerrymandered by the Republicans in their interest, but the business is none the less a cheat played by a party in power on its opponents. Because "they all do it," is just the reason why any man whose enthusiastic friends dignify with the name of statesman should set his face against such tricks of the trade.

If his action is correctly reported, the czar has more sense than he has of late been credited with. The ministry wanted Count Tolstoi arrested for publishing accounts in the foreign papers of the Russian famine. Foreign public opinion goes for Russia, but in Russia, the imprisonment of such a man as Tolstoi, for such an offense, would have intensified the dislike of Russian administrative methods which as already very strong. The czar was wise enough to overrule the proposal of his ministry.

It is now declared that binding agreements have been entered into between nearly all the anthracite carrying and producing companies for the purpose of maintaining rates and restricting production. It is such combinations as these, made with a view of raising the price of necessities of life, which excite just and general indignation. It is such monopolies as this coal monopoly which give force to platforms like that adopted in the recent Nationalist convention at St. Louis.

The favor shown Archbishop Ireland at Rome is another indication of a radical change in the policy of the Papacy. It is entirely in the line with the papal effort to divorce Catholicism from Bourbonism and imperialism in France. It is a movement which shows much broader political views than have been hitherto attributed to the policy of the Vatican.

Senator Daugherty suggests the name of Lon Merritt for Congress from this district. Lon is a loyal citizen of Duluth, in every way up to the Bessemer limit, settled here about the time nature was depositing the ore in our hills, and he is, it is thought, harmonize all the republican factions. We should be pleased to see Leonidas in the arena.

It is now stated that a writ of habeas corpus will be prayed out from the United States supreme court to prevent the trial of Lieut. Hetherington before the Japanese consular court on the claim that an American citizen must be indicted by a grand jury and convicted by a petit jury before he can be legally punished for any high crime.

The semi-official North German Gazette announces that in deference to public opinion a compromise educational bill will be proposed, and, if rejected, the government will hold the proper persons responsible. It would be a wiser move still to hold those who proposed such a bill responsible.

Some of the Mesaba tales sent to the outside press are just a little too fabulous and inaccurate to do any good. A round, unvarnished tale is best for the end in view. Too much fiction is apt to belittle the truth.

The Republicans of Illinois are everywhere favoring the repeal of that part of the compulsory education law which requires or allows any interference by public officers with private, parish or parochial schools.

In the death of Capt. James D. Robie, which occurred Saturday, Superior lost one of her most enterprising citizens. He was well known at the head of the lakes and will be missed on both sides of the bay.

People on both sides of the bay will sincerely sympathize with J. T. Murphy, of the Superior Telegram, who has been sorely afflicted in the death of his wife. The case is a peculiarly sad one in which words of condolence seem but empty sound and have little head. As a tribute of respect the Telegram was not issued Saturday.

Mr. Clarkson has been putting on record his opinion of Quay. He naturally ranks him highest among the great men of his party. It is only a question of what constitutes greatness.

Ohio is taking a big interest in Minnesota ores. She recognizes the Mesaba range as the Euclid avenue of the West, the star spangled pathway of the Zenith City region.

It is stated that Congressman Mills will probably be elected to the United States senate by the legislature of Texas which meets today.

Country Life.
(Illustrated on Lincoln.)
Lincoln was not a type. He stands alone—no ancestors, no fellows and no successors.

He had the advantage of living in a new country, of social equality, of personal freedom, of seeing in the horizon of his future the perpetual star of hope. He preserved his individuality and his self respect. He knew and mingled with men of every kind; and, after all, men are the best books. He became acquainted with the ambitions and hopes of the heart, the means used to accomplish ends, the springs of action, and the seeds of thought. He was familiar with nature, with actual things, with common facts. He loved and appreciated the poem of the year, the drama of the seasons.

In a new country a man must possess three virtues—honesty, courage and generosity. In cultivated society cultivation is often more important than soil. A well-executed counterfeit passes more readily than a blurred genuine. It is necessary only to observe the unwritten laws of society—to be honest enough to keep out of prison and generous enough to subscribe in public—where the subscription can be defended as an investment.

In a new country character is essential; in the old reputation is sufficient. In the new they find what a man really is; in the old he generally passes for what he resembles. People separate only by distance are much nearer together than those divided by the walls of caste.

It is no advantage to live in a great city where poverty degrades and failure brings despair. The fields are lovelier than paved streets and the great forests than walls of brick. Oaks and elms are more poetic than steeples and chimneys. In the country is the idea of home. There you see the rising and setting sun; you become acquainted with the stars and clouds. The constellations are your friends. You hear the rain on the roof and listen to the rhythmic sighing of the winds. You are thrilled by the resurrection touched spring, touched and saddened by autumn—the grace and poetry of death. Every field is a picture, every landscape every landscape a poem, every flower a tender thought, and every forest a fairyland. In the country you preserve your identity—your personality. There you are an aggregation of atoms; but in the city you are only an atom of an aggregation.

Sunshine Land.
(Edith Thomas.)
They came in sight of a lovely shore, Yellow as gold in the morning light;
The sun's own color at noon it wore,
And faded not at the fall of night;
Clear, weather or cloudy, 'twas all the same,
The happy hills seemed bathed with the sun;
He secret the colors could not understand, But they called the country Sunshine Land.

What was the secret? A simple thing—It was the sun's smile when you know, Touched by the tender finger of Spring, A million blossoms were all aglow;
So many, so many, so small and bright, They covered the hills with a light,
And the wild bee hummed and the glad breeze fanned.
Through the luscious fields of Sunshine Land.

Hover the sea we two are bound,
What part, dear child, would we choose for ours?
We would sail and sail all at last we found,
This fairy gold of a smiling shore.
Yet, darling, we find it home we stayed,
If small joys our pleasures are made;
More than the golden fields of Sunshine Land, Lie the golden fields of Sunshine Land.

(Edward Marshall in Short Stories.)
A thin column of blue smoke rises from my pipe and drifts before and above me. It hangs indolently swinging from side to side until it is caught in the breath from her garments as she passes.

I turn my head and follow her with my eyes.
She smiles fondly at me.
Her supple figure bends over the grate.
She smiles fondly at me.

I lately answer the greeting and turn away gleefully to watch the smoke.
The waving spire has broadened and slowly circling. The blue column becomes the drapery of a gracefully swinging figure. It holds its arms out alluringly. Above the arms appears a bright, enticing face.

Larger the figure grows, and more beautiful.
I lose myself in the spirit of my dream and see in the smoke-spire success.

I rise to reach the outstretched arms. I risk the beckons; it will be so easy to secure it now!

Success?
And I have longed for it, sought for it, and worked for it so many weary days!

Nearer and nearer—I am fascinated by its undulating loveliness. It is really Success—glorious, wonderful Success—that I am rising, absorbed, to reach.

Nearer and nearer—now, I am almost around it now.
In a second it will be mine.
Success mine!

Ambition realized!
There is a swish of silken skirts at my side. A tiny gust of perfumed air passes my face. The woman has thrown herself, laughing, into my arms. Her kisses are on my lips; her soft hair covers my eyes.

When she lifts herself, still laughing, from my mad embrace, the smoke wreath has vanished.
Success has gone.
Again the woman nestles in my arms.

THE GREAT STRIKE

London Fortunately Supplied With Coal in Advance; Distress Averted North of the Tyne.

A Great Foreign Investment Company Formed at Chicago; Will Buy American Properties.

LONDON, March 15.—Several leading coal merchants have informed a representative of the United Press that London has an ample supply of coal and that the quantity now on hand is sufficient to last for weeks. They have no fear of a panic. This supply has not come, however, from English coal mines alone. English buyers have flooded the coal markets of Belgium and Germany with orders which are being filled as rapidly as possible. The output in South Wales, too, has been greatly increased, and the miners of this region have been encouraged to make a spurt. The very panic which caused Londoners to be lashed at by the reds in England a few weeks ago is the reason that London is not likely to see a coal famine.

The distress is most acute in the regions north of the Tyne where the iron masters are being compelled to close for lack of coal that used to be at their gates. In the south the continuation of work in South Wales is providing the coal needed in many establishments. The immense works of the Great Western Railway company at Swindon, Wiltshire, are supplied from South Wales, and the iron works at Newport, while the still greater railway shops at Crewe are in danger of complete shut down, the iron works at Newport are closed. The iron masters of the north are in such a crippled condition that many of the employees despair of the future and are selling their goods with a view to emigrating to the United States.

The reason given by the Scottish miners for not stopping work is that the miners' wages have been reduced in Lancashire and Yorkshire, and that the mine owners are reaping a big profit on their sales in England.

Four Men Shot.
TORONTO, March 15.—A special to the Bee from Linn, Ont., says: Snyder has shot Ed Naylor, Burt Crobaugh and Thomas Downey and killed himself. It is one of the saddest tragedies that has occurred in the city's history. Walter A. Snyder, aged about 45 years, unmarried and one of the most popular men in the city, had attempted the life of Edward T. Naylor and Burton W. Crobaugh, both members of the team by which he has been twice champion of Canada, and of Thomas W. Downey, a fellow clerk. That the man was insane does not admit of a shadow of doubt. He had been employed as clerk for the hardware establishment of John M. Naylor, has been one of the city's leading business houses, and Snyder, Crobaugh and Edward T. Naylor, the latter the brother of the proprietor, have been employed as clerks for many years. A change was made last week, which satisfied Snyder at the time, but later it so proved upon his mind that he became insane. He entered the store this morning and found the others already there. He made a pretense of desiring Crobaugh and Naylor to examine the contents of a box he had just received by express, and when they turned his head he shot them both and turned the revolver on Downey who had entered to save the lives of the others. Crobaugh's wound is supposed to be of a fleshy nature and it is thought that he will recover. Naylor was shot twice in the back and his recovery is not probable. Downey stopped three bullets, one in his arm, one in his side and the third in the back. His recovery is not probable. All the men engaged in the tragedy stand high in the community. Snyder was member of the Forty-ninth regiment during the late war and Naylor was with the gallant Eighth of Ohio. All save Snyder are married and have families.

Foreign Investing Company.
CHICAGO, March 15.—A syndicate has just been formed here for the purpose of making investments in the United States. The name of the concern will be the Trans-Atlantic Mortgage and Security Trust, Limited. The nominal capital is to be $2,000,000, but it is said to have practically unlimited resources behind it. The managers of Tweddale is said to be the head, and front of the scheme, and among his associates are Sir John Pender and Gerald Balfour and other well-known capitalists of England. The corporation will undertake trust and agencies of every description, the issuing and guaranteeing capital for companies and the conversion of industrial business into joint stock companies. The object is to secure control of gilt-edge American properties of all descriptions.

A Question Answered.
"Yes, sir, it is a fact."
This was the answer given our reporter when he called on Mr. Henry N. Brown, manager of Brown's crockery store, to inquire regarding the rumor that a dry goods store would be opened at East Superior street. "The store," he said, "would be first-class in every respect. Dry goods will occupy the first floor."
"What will you do with the crockery?"
"Crockery in all its branches will occupy the second and third floors and the basement on Michigan street, which will be elegantly fitted up." Mr. Brown said his buyer had been East two weeks buying new goods in the crockery and glassware line and that the new stock would soon be on, and would be very complete.

"Yes, sir," he said, "we have an elevator running to all floors, the timely use of soon to add another department."

IRON IS STILL KING.

The Duluth Stock Exchange is now in readiness for business as soon as the properties are listed and its rooms fitted up. The amended articles of incorporation have been filed with the register of deeds.

The Higgins Land company of which Louis Rouchieu, C. E. Shannon, Geo. F. Piper, Chas. W. McComber, and others are interested has leased lands in 58-16, aggregating 2000 acres, to the Rouchieu Iron company the incorporators of which are Frank W. Higgins, Giles Gilbert, C. E. Shannon, Geo. W. Buck, Geo. F. Piper and Thomas B. Mills. The consideration of the lease is $100,000 and a royalty of 30 cents a ton.

The Twin City Mining company don't propose to be starved out before the advent of the railroad, as today they forwarded the last of their supplies, which are calculated to furnish 200 men and the draft teams with sustenance for at least six months. The last consignment consisted of a car load of flour, a car of beef and pork, two cars each of hay feed, and groceries and two heavy teams and horses, besides a lot of machinery. The two warehouses each 50 by 30 feet are being rushed to completion.

The Lackawanna company will establish its main storehouse at Merritt in a big warehouse which is now being put together by the Lackawanna company, the company's property on Thursday.

T. J. Dougherty, of Northfield; J. M. Underwood, of Minneapolis; and Senator Henry Keller, of Sauk Centre, arrived in the city last night. They came in to look after the interests of the Iron Cliff Mining company, for which they just purchased large supplies. Developments will be pushed with much fervor, and the interests are expected very soon. Senator Keller is a map of great business capacity as well as for his disposition and will make things merry on the Mesaba.

Ex-Governor James E. Campbell, of Hamilton, Ohio; E. D. Sawyer, of Cleveland, Ohio; and Harry E. Beecher and C. F. Nester, of Lancaster, Ohio, arrived in the city over the Omaha this morning and took quarters at the new St. Louis. Several others, among them Chairman James E. Neal, of the demonstration, are expected to arrive with them, but could not make connections and will be here later. Governor Campbell has been occupied all the day with business connected with the Ohio company, of which he is president, and will probably go to St. Paul tonight to look after the interests of the Buckeye company of which he is also president. Gen. J. H. Baker, vice president, and Messrs. Treasurer, and Hon. W. W. Braden, secretary.

Since the governor's recent visit here, developments have been pushed on the Ohio properties and the showings are even more favorable as the work goes on. Supplies and lumber have been shipped to Mesaba station to be ready for business when bobbed navigations.

The Buckeye Iron company with properties all the way from range 18 to 25, averaging 1600 feet in width, has sunk two shafts a few miles from Grand Rapids. One shaft is 100 feet and the other 120 feet. The view of ore 2 and 16 feet respectively. The Buckeye mine has a crosscut showing the width of the vein to be 262 feet. The machinery for working the mine is all there and the Duluth & Winnipeg road is only seven miles away with the track laid to the mine. The principal office of the company is in the Pioneer Press building, St. Paul. The Campbell party will spend a week in Duluth, the Twin cities, and the woods.

The directors of the Ohio company this afternoon authorized the issue of an additional 1000 shares of treasury stock. The shares are $10 each, par value.

C. H. Dunn, formerly pastor of the First Methodist church of this city, but now located Burlington, Iowa, a real red hematite hustler, is in the city looking after his mining interests. He has gathered in numerous shakelars as a result of investments in the ferruginous Mesaba hillsides.

There was some activity in stocks today. Shaw being the feature of the afternoon. It was sold at 14 in the morning and was held at 16 at 3 o'clock. The articles of the Rouchieu Iron company were filed with the register of deeds today. The capital is $5,000,000 and the incorporators are Louis Rouchieu, C. E. Shannon, Geo. W. Buck, Geo. F. Piper, C. E. Shannon, Geo. W. Buck and T. B. Mills.

THE BIG COMBINE

The Great Meat Trust Threatened With Prosecution; They are Getting Ready for It.

King of Spain, Heirs of Columbus, &c., to be the Guests of the People.

The Reading and Other Railroads Proceeded against Their Combination Alleged to be Void.

CHICAGO, March 15.—The Morning News says: The department of justice at Washington is after the "Big Three." A thorough overhauling of the methods of the powerful meat combine is about to be begun. For years it has had its headquarters in Chicago. Its members are Armour & Co., of Chicago; the Armour Packing company, of Kansas City; the Cudahy Packing company, of Omaha; Nelson Morris & Co., of Chicago, and the house at St. Louis, and G. A. Swift & Co., of Chicago.

It has so perfected its system that it presents it has completely in its grasp the states of Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, the District of Columbia and all the New England states. Its agents in this city receive daily returns of the sales of each member. Each member is entitled to a certain per cent of all the money paid in. The members pay to cents per 100 pounds of meat sold. At the end of each week the total payments are apportioned among the members according to the percentage.

While the clouds are thickening over the heads of the big meat combination, and the wheels of the law are about to be set in motion against it, several of its members have gone elsewhere. There appears to have been an unusual lull about the time the government was thinking of beginning an investigation.

WASHINGTON NEWS.
Invitations to the World's Fair: Limiting Expense of Public Buildings.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Resolutions from the World's fair committee were presented. One provided that the President of the United States be requested to extend to the king of Spain, to the queen regent of Spain, to the duke of Parma and to the living descendants of Christopher Columbus an invitation to visit the World's Columbian exposition at the guests of the people of the United States.

Another asked for a loan of Columbian relics. Objection was made that no one knew how many descendants of Columbus were surviving and the resolutions went over. Modified his amendment limiting the cost of public buildings to $50,000 so as to make the limit $75,000. It was adopted.

In the senate today the chaplain prayed for the preservation of Senator Morrill's life. Mr. Peffer, of Kansas, introduced a bill to regulate the value of coin circulating as currency. Mr. Hale presented for action, the conference report on the urgent deficiency bill, which was adopted. The military academy appropriation bill was passed with the usual amendments.

Mr. Hoar gave notice that at 2 p. m. he would ask for an executive session on the urgent deficiency bill, which was agreed to. The house then went into committee of the whole on the free wool bill, and Mr. Coombs, of New York, who had the floor on Friday, last, resumed his speech.

THE READING DEAL ATTACKED.
Attorney General Proceeds Against Fort Reading Railroad Company.

HARRISBURG, March 15.—Attorney General Hensel today began proceedings against the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad company, the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron company, the Fort Reading Railroad company, the Lehigh Valley Railroad company, the Lehigh Valley Coal company, the Central Railroad company, and the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company, by filing a bill in equity in the Dauphin county court. The attorney general avers and charges that their leases and agreements are in violation of the constitution of this commonwealth, injurious to the public interest, against public policy, illegal and void.

You Can Be Accommodated.
You are at this time considering whether you shall have the interior of your house decorated in either the use of wall papers, oil or water colors. You also may be at a loss to know what would be the most desirable and tasteful way to have the wall executed. Then again you consider whether at this time you can afford to make the necessary outlay to have the work carried out as you would wish.

In either way you can find ready and willing assistance. First, you can find at the La Vague paint and wall paper house a stock of decorations and papers from which to make desirable selections. You can also be assisted in your selections by allowing us to have our representative call upon you to offer suggestions that what you may desire will blend with the furnishings of your rooms. Then as to prices, they will, for first class work guaranteed, be as low as the lowest. As to terms of settlement, leave for Detroit on Friday, and our factory to the contracting party. Remember we are at your service any time to send and take measurements of your work and with no obligation to place any order.

Ed Logan and Frank Polkey were sent up from the police court this morning for drunkenness.

The three-month old child of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Flynn died yesterday after a brief illness.

Charles Anton Gruerson was before Judge Ayer this afternoon for examination as to his sanity.

The mayor's nominations were confirmed last night, and the council moved along without slipping a cog.

The funeral of Daniel Cummings, who died yesterday of pneumonia, took place this morning from the pro-cathedral.

The regular meeting of the real estate exchange was held yesterday afternoon but nothing of special interest was done.

Frank E. Wyman and C. Lofland will in about two weeks begin the publication of a general trade journal, the Duluth Industrial Review.

Mrs. J. P. Foster, mother of Mrs. James Cash of this city, died at her home in Pontiac, Mich., Sunday, and was buried today. Mrs. Cash was with her mother when she died.

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. J. P. Foster, the mother of Mrs. James Cash, at Pontiac. Mrs. Foster has been an invalid for a considerable time and Mrs. Cash has been with her for several months.

Van, Campbell, a brakeman, formerly employed by the South Shore road, has begun suit to recover $25,000 for injuries received in July 1891. He was thrown from the top of a freight train by the breaking of a draw bar and lost his left leg as the result of his injuries.

St. Patrick's day, which falls on Thursday of this week, will be fittingly observed in Duluth. At the pro-cathedral solemn high mass will be said in the morning. There will be a parade and speaking in the afternoon, and the Irish drama, "Kathleen Mavourneen," will be presented at night.

C. P. Maginnis testified before the wheat investigation committee yesterday, stating that the state inspector made him short several hundred bushels while buying grain at Morris, Minn., in 1886, 1887 and 1888. One season he was short 200 bushels and the next 900. Then he adjourned sine die.

The Railroad Record and Investors Guide, of Philadelphia, for March 11, contains a full page cut of Duluth's Central school building and two columns of extracts from The Herald's Midwinter Annual. Duluth the beautiful and superb is gradually coming to the front. She is just now receiving a fair share of oriental esteem.

The missionary meeting at the First Baptist church last night, touching chiefly upon the work in China, was very interesting. Rev. E. J. Brownson, of West Duluth, delivered the principal address and illustrated his lecture with stereoscopic views. The exercises were enlivened with songs and recitations.

The current number of the Engineering Record, published in New York, contains a full page illustration showing the building construction details of the Duluth Union depot. The same number contains a criticism by Frank C. Osborn, of Cleveland, on the Sixth avenue viaduct in this city. The criticism is based on a series of illustrations of the viaduct that have appeared in that journal.

Hazelwood Park ladies and citizens, aided by the male quartet from Rice's Point, gave the Rev. Mr. Greenhalgh, of the Presbyterian church, a donation reception last evening at the residence of Mr. Cushman.

The quartet, introduced as a variety, was much more popular than the recent clyclop. Music, refreshments, social cheer and substantial finances rounded up the affair successfully.

At a special meeting yesterday afternoon the board of trade accepted the resignation of Mr. Hays as registrar of grain and appointed F. McLaren Jr. to the vacancy. The request of the Lake Superior Elevator company that private elevator B and C be made private, under the rules of the board, was granted, and the secretary was instructed to wire Chairman Blanchard of the river and harbor committee that the board had vigorously resolved in favor of including in the river and harbor bill the authority to contract for the work involved in a 20-foot channel west from Buffalo.

George C. Kimball, of Muskegon, Mich., was recently in Duluth, and as he was journeying homeward the Grand Rapids Democrat of the Southern peninsula makes him, among other things, calculate as follows: Right here I want to remark that I have visited many cities during the past few weeks, and I must say that Duluth has just about as fine a hotel and opera house as any city in the country. The Spalding, I think, is larger than the Grand Pacific in Chicago, and it is run in a superb manner. The opera house is about the finest I ever visited. Duluth is a wonderful city and just now is a world-beater, sure.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., March 15.—The general present which was over the Northwest yesterday still continues with increased violence and much lower temperatures. Its general appearance is similar to the light rain and fog which accompanied the cold wave experienced here during January, but it is not probable that it will turn out as long or severe as that one was.
The lowest temperature reported is 36° below zero at Fairport, Minn. Other temperatures below zero are: On Appleton, 25°; Minn-neapolis, 25°; Winnetka, 25°; St. Vincent, 16°; St.
Barnes, 15°; Duluth, 10°; Mound, 10°; Two-hills, 12°; and Fort Snelling, 12°. The cold weather covers the entire country as far south as Arkansas, where the temperature is 10° freezing point.
Snowfall ranging from 2 to 4 inches was reported from the southwest, and light snow has fallen at scattered places over the entire country.
The temperature went to 10° below, within 22 as high as the day before yesterday, and then dropped to 6° below, where it was at 7 this morning.

DULUTH, March 15.—Local forecast for Duluth until 8 a.m. March 16: Cold and fair.

CLEVELAND'S LETTER.

Every person, of whatever party, ought to rejoice at anything which tends to bring the political campaign of 1892 to a square contest between parties on honest issues which call for decision. To that end the letter of Grover Cleveland, published in our telegraphic columns of yesterday, clearly tends. The trifling is one of the issues about which there is a square difference of opinion, which needs to be settled by popular vote.

As Gen. Dragg said, in his letter to which Mr. Cleveland replied, it was supposed, only half a year since, that this issue was to be the chief one of the campaign. Underground currents may have been for some time setting in a different direction, but the first distinct evidence that any change of issue was contemplated showed itself when Mr.
Crisp was chosen Speaker of the present House of Representatives. Then came Hill's capture of the New York delegation, and the Democratic movement to defeat Cleveland took very definite shape. The overwhelming vote of the House to bring the Bland bill—one of the most objectionable bills of its objectionable kind—to a vote, has further indicated the designs of the Democratic majority of the House.

Now so far as we can fathom the policy of the movement to shelve Cleveland, it was originally this: In the first place Hill was still recently supposed to have such a hold on the state of New York that he could be relied on to carry it if nominated. Next, and here comes the most important part of the program, Cleveland was to be set aside for Hill, or some other candidate who would not vote a free-coinage bill if it reached him.
The rebellion against Hill in his own state has shown the first part of this scheme impracticable. But the Democratic Congress still holds fast to the second. Of late, there has been some talk of Cleveland's declining to run for another nomination, and a great deal more talk of the ineffectuality of his nomination should he not decline. The Washington managers want him out of the way, and the reason is perfectly obvious. If he were to run, and win, they might indeed gain on the tariff issue, but they would have to sacrifice free silver. Now what they mean to do is to carry on the campaign on the tariff issue, keeping silver back, but, should they win, they mean to vote free silver coinage also.

Mr. Cleveland's position, now clearly defined, makes any such trick much more difficult. He says to the people of his party, in effect, "Here I am, and you know exactly where I am. If you want a square tariff campaign, I will, if you wish, be your leader. If you propose a tricky campaign, for tariff reform ostensibly, but for free-coinage in reality, then some other candidate will suit your purpose better." Then, if the party should choose some other candidate, it would be at once put on the defensive. It would have to show some good reason for the change, and that might not be easy.

Stillwater, Minn., contributes a wonderful scientific paper to the St. Paul Dispatch. It announces the discovery of a most remarkable fossil animal, a cross between the elephant and the rhinoceros, having both the trunk of the one and the horn of the other. But, unlike the rhinoceros, this creature's nose-horn is hollow, and its discoverers think it was used, like a Gatling gun, to fire stones or brick-bats at game or at other playful pachyderms of the epoch. They think this because the bore of this hollow instrument shows serious abrasions and very hard usage. Our own belief is that this was the animal out of which time has evolved the preacher, the lawyer, in short the orator. Reliance on the big, hollow horn has, indeed, proved a mistake. Even the Puritan forefather, so long as he shouted theology through his resounding nose, failed. He won on other perhaps less noble qualities. Even oratory is played out. The lawyer no longer relies on it. In politics it goes for almost nothing. What great party would today think of nominating a great orator like Henry Clay or Daniel Webster for the presidency? Even the oratorical powers of a Patrick Henry, or the possession of a bassoon-like attachment as hollow and as resounding as that of the Stillwater rhinoceros, would not help David B. Hill in his canvass.

His methods were discovered centuries and eons after the Stillwater wonder had discontinued the use of that curious wind instrument local scientists have just brought to light.

The edict of Prince George, commander-in-chief of the Saxon army, detailing the cruelties practiced on recruits, is published in full in the Minneapolis Times of yesterday, from a copy which has been received by a citizen of that place. The atrocious cruelties which are habitually practiced in the German army are almost beyond belief.
It must be remembered that this army is officered by men of the aristocratic caste, but it is the non-commissioned officers, men of the people themselves, who are charged with these atrocities.
It seems to be a worse exhibition of the inhumanity which leads to the persecution of college Freshmen by the college Sophomores and of the "plebs" by the higher classes at West Point. In all probability the cruelties thus practiced are exceptional, otherwise the German army would be nothing less than a hell on earth.

On Saturday Mr. H. B. Hurler, of Minneapolis, attacked the Chicago "wheat pil" before the legislative investigating committee at St. Paul and claimed that the speculators had ruined the milling interests of the Northwest. He said further that it did at least equal damage to the farmers. One of the Chicago speculators retorts in the Chicago Times that the price of grain is kept up by their speculations. Mr. Pillsbury replies that the farmers will never get a fair price for their wheat until the right to throw a million or more bushels on the market by men who never expect to really own a bushel of wheat is prohibited by law.

A recent London dispatch details the sufferings of the people of Clure Island, a little patch of land just off the Irish coast. They are fishermen and very poor. They had fallen in debt and had resisted a bailiff who had been sent over to seize the little property they had.
Eighty of them were summoned before a magistrate on the mainland. They were half clad but were obliged to walk thirteen miles to another town where they were to be tried the next day.
Many were not able to reach the place of trial, but all were finally required to give bonds for good behavior.

Professor Totten, of Yale, is out with three crazy books on his Advent Theory.
Last week, on the day of their publication, he took a heavy hammer and a 10 inch spike and spiked a copy of the book to a telegraph pole on one of the city's principal streets, remarking to a group of reporters who stood near, that as he could not spike the book up in all parts of the world, he would nail it to the telegraph, which reaches all over the world. "Professor" Totten is not a member of the Yale faculty. He is an officer of the United States army, detailed under act of Congress to give instruction in tactics and military science.

The News claims that the Democrats of Ohio were the first to gerrymander the state. Such is not our recollection of the facts, although we have not the statistics at hand to verify our recollection.
Does the News seriously claim that Republican political methods do not include the gerrymander? It is because The Herald is independent that it commended the course attributed to Governor McKinley as one deserving of imitation by all parties.

The German papers of this country are specially outspoken against currency tinkering. The New York Staats Zeitung says: "A century of McKinley could not hurt the country so badly as one year of Bland. . . . We must have a party of honest money, and we will have it. Every other question will be forced into the background until this one is settled."

T. P. O'Connor, a nationalist member of the British parliament, declares in Sunday's Sun that the dissolution of the parliament which has so long misrepresented the country, will occur earlier than had been expected. He thinks the new election will come in June. Accident may at any moment throw the government into a minority and force a dissolution.

A corner started in corn at San Luis Potosi, Mexico, recently, was broken down, last week, by the arrival of 65,000 bushels of American corn which had been placed on the market by the state government. It was sold to the poorer classes at reasonable prices.

A wicked editor now rises in his place in the St. Paul Globe to remark:
"Any gold had initiated Rockefeller, and given a million to the church treasury in place of $10,000, there might be less doubt as to the religious propriety of accepting it."

PRESIDENT OAKES AND PARTY.

They Take an Unprecedented Bath at Yakima.

(St. Paul Dispatch.)

It would seem that no divinity hedges about a railroad president sufficiently to protect him from raging waters and other discomforts incidental to "prospect" in the faraway West. In other words, President Oakes, of the Northern Pacific, and a party of friends and officials had rather a narrow escape from drowning on Saturday afternoon in the neighborhood of North Yakima, Wash.
The party, consisting of President Oakes, General Manager Mellen, E. V. Smalley—editor of the Northwest Magazine —and Walter Oakes, arrived at North Yakima Saturday afternoon and stopped to inspect the company's property.

After doing the town they concluded, according to telegrams received in this city yesterday, to take a drive around the country, and accordingly a four-in-hand was provided for them in the shape of the North Yakima band wagon drawn by four stout cobs. In the band wagon, besides President Oakes and party, were several dignitaries of North Yakima who are accustomed to assert their right to ride in the band wagon every time and under any circumstances.

All went merry as a marriage bell for a short time. The country was inspected with critical and appreciative eyes, and the North Yakima party encountered in their disinterested conviction that North Yakima is the only genuine future great —all others being imitations. But just at this period of the proceedings the driver, himself an enthusiastic North Yakima, unwittingly quenched the fire of general enthusiasm by driving whoopla into an unfavorable stream. The band wagon was then abandoned and the passengers were dumped pell-mell into the chilly waters.

The stream was in the condition described as "on the rampage," and the unfortunates were washed down current without standing on the order of their washing. They all reached the bank without much difficulty, however, except Mr. Smalley, who, being a newspaper man, naturally got a soaking of water than any one else. He had part of what our Gallic friends call "a bad quarter of an hour," before he was rescued by a small boat and brought to land, where the usual remedies were applied and he soon recovered. Just for the sake of warmth the party proceeded back to North Yakima on foot. The telegrams make no mention of the fate of the band wagon, but it is plainly perceptible at Northern Pacific headquarters today that stock in North Yakima as a future great has taken a big slump.

The Northern Pacific Earnings.

(Philadelphia Railroad Record.)

The earnings of the Northern Pacific railroad have again commenced to forge ahead as we always said they would as soon as the comparison was made with the period of last year, when the wheat harvest of Washington in 1890 was fine, as it always has been, whilst that of the remainder of the United States was a failure. The result of that was that the millers of Minneapolis bought the grain of Washington, instead of giving to the Northern Pacific a haul over almost the entire length of its road.
In 1891 the wheat harvest of the United States was phenomenally large. Therefore the production of Washington, though less as ever, was sent to Tacoma for export, thus giving to the Northern Pacific a comparatively short, although much more profitable haul than it had enjoyed in the previous year. The transportation of the crop of 1890 was made in November and December, 1890, and January and February, 1891, consequently the extraordinary earnings of these months have been compared with the "coney-day" earnings of the same months of the company's current fiscal year. But the comparison will hereafter be made with earnings from the legitimate traffic of the road.

The latter weeks of February began to show the true status of the business of the road. It will be seen that the gross earnings of the Northern Pacific road for the fourth week in February were $185,169, against $376,912 for the corresponding week of last year. The increase of $191,743 for the single week.
The Wisconsin Central's earnings for the same week showed an increase of $31,100, thus demonstrating that the entire Northern Pacific system made an increase of $1,103,336 in its earnings for the single week.

The Beginning of Spring.

Perhaps you think you know when spring begins; when you shed your fur coat and see the grass coming up. But unless you are familiar with the old-fashioned almanac, it would be safe to wager that you do not know that spring begins today. On this day the sun enters the zodiacal sign of Aries, or the Ram, and the vernal season is with us once again. In the latitude where the inventors and principal users of the zodiac (they have been dead a good while) resided, this was about the date they began to plow, and they spent the spring campaign by offering a sacrifice to the gods for a prosperous year. This sacrifice usually consisted of a ram, and he was given a place of honor in the zodiac as the sign of spring. But though it is hardly spring here yet, it is time to look up the zodiac for the summer's work, and if you are thinking of moving the fertile wheat fields of North Dakota, the corn-raising prairies of Nebraska and Kansas, or the mines and ranches of Colorado, South Dakota or Wyoming, The Burlington is the line over which you can get there with speed and comfort. In fact, if you are going any-

A Table of Comparative Expenditures for the Past Five Years Also Presented.

The annual report of the board of public works for the year just past was completed this morning and was given for publication. The amount of work done has not been so great as in some other years, but it makes a good showing. The report entire will be a somewhat lengthy document, but from the tabular statements which comprise a part of it, the figures, which give a general idea of work and expense, have been selected. Exhibit A covers the work of improving streets, alleys, avenues and is as follows:

The Board of Public Works Present a Summary of the Work Done

Under the direction of That Department During the Last Fiscal Year.

A Table of Comparative Expenditures for the Past Five Years Also Presented.

The annual report of the board of public works for the year just past was completed this morning and was given for publication. The amount of work done has not been so great as in some other years, but it makes a good showing. The report entire will be a somewhat lengthy document, but from the tabular statements which comprise a part of it, the figures, which give a general idea of work and expense, have been selected. Exhibit A covers the work of improving streets, alleys, avenues and is as follows:

STREET, AVENUE AND ALLEY IMPROVEMENT.

SPRING HATS!

You can't buy much of a Hat for $2.00. We have plenty of Hats here at that price. They are the best that are sold at $2.00. But that isn't saying much. Three dollars is the popular price for a Derby Hat. Our looks as good and is as fashionable as a Hat can be. Of course, it isn't a Knox. But it's fully as fashionable and a remarkable cheap Hat at $3.00. Nothing but the latest styles of Spring Hats in one of our windows. It makes you wonder where all the Hats go to. Every man wears a Hat. Nearly every man buys his Hat here; that's why we sell so many.

Neckwear and General Furnishings, Collars, Cuffs and Gloves. If you want the pick of all that is newest, you'll find it in our store today.

THE HENRY CASE.

Nelson Sets the Verdict Aside and Grants a New Trial in Duluth.

Affidavits Read Showing How the Search Was Conducted and the Stubs Discovered.

What Assistant Postmaster Hughes Said and Did on That Interesting Occasion.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 16.—[Special to The Herald.]—Judge Nelson, of the United States circuit court, this morning set aside the verdict of the jury in the Henry case and ordered a new trial, which will be heard in Duluth next May, the outcome of which nobody in Duluth, unless it be Postmaster Howard, has any question.

In a clear and interesting manner Attorney E. A. Campbell presented the case to Judge Nelson this forenoon before a crowded court room. Henry was in court sober-faced but confident. Mr. Campbell said in his remarks to the court that he had supposed, under the circumstances, the district attorney from a sense of duty would move to set aside the verdict in this case, but it had been necessary to bring the matter to argument. He said that he had been under the impression all the time that a mistake had been made. He conceived the idea of going to Duluth and making an examination of the postoffice to see if the missing stubs might not be found. He described in graphic style the manner in which the search was made until they found, upon the top shelf of the room where hundreds of records were kept, the identical stubs in question, covered with dust. He said that when the stubs were pulled out he saw Mr. Hughes, the assistant postmaster, start suddenly and said that he had found the package containing the stubs. Attorney Campbell then read affidavits from the gentlemen who went into the postoffice, along with him when the search was made. Prominent among the points brought out in these affidavits was the fact that the assistant postmaster had said when the party reached the postoffice that he had never supposed there was any question about the stubs. He had supposed the stubs were in their place among the records. The affidavits showed the details of the search, and it was clear that the stubs were covered with dust and that it was impossible for the attorney, or any one on the party, to have spirited the stubs into the vault. Mayor D. Autremont, ex-Mayor Sutphin, Charles A. Towne, John L. Gill and E. L. Fisher all gave their affidavits, which were identical as to all essential points. Mr. Campbell showed that the office was in state of great confusion. The affidavits were all clear and positive and placed the young man in a still clearer light than he has stood in Minneapolis before. District Attorney May presented three affidavits, one each from Howard, Danner and Childs, to the effect that the dust might have accumulated on the stubs from sweeping the room or from the open door, the point being, apparently, to make out that the stubs had been placed there recently. Attorney Campbell spoke eloquently in discussing the case, holding that it was a strange act of justice to still hold Henry accountable when it had been proven that he was innocent. He said that it was most shameful that this cause should be against this young man's character, and if there should be a verdict against him, it would cast a blot on his whole life. In a powerful manner he said that if a verdict were returned against him, it would have sent down an apology to this honorable court.

Judge Nelson, in setting aside the verdict, reviewed the case and held that the jury, in the light of the evidence before them, could not have done otherwise than they did. With the fact of the finding of the stubs in view, however, it was the duty of the court to give the defendant a new trial.

The general impression in Minneapolis on the case is identical with that of the people of Duluth, and Henry was heartily congratulated on leaving the court room by many who had followed the steps of this interesting case from the start.

AN ENGINE IN THE AIR.

A Bad, But Fortunate Accident on the Eastern Railroad Trestle.

About 10 o'clock this morning as switch engine No. 1, belonging to the Great Northern company, was coming into the Eastern yards in this city she was thrown from the track by a defective "split rail" at the switch just east of the rear of the street railway power house. Incoming and outgoing of trains by that piece of track is effectively blocked for at least a couple of days although the wrecking crew is hard at work this afternoon. The trestle is about 18 feet high at the point of obstruction, and but for its newness and great strength, a terribly fatal accident would have undoubtedly resulted, as the engine had no time to jump before the engine settled. About 40 feet of the ties are torn up; the rails are twisted and broken and the huge engine is "hoist deep" in a mass of splintered timber. She is hung up in mid air, almost her total weight resting on one of the rear drive wheels, which in turn rests upon the triple stringers. The engine and tank are considerably damaged. A huge cylinder cap is wrenched off and side rods are twisted. Two box cars following the engine left the rails, but were quickly pulled on again by a relief engine.

The section men had been putting in a new switch at the point of the accident and the split rail was a trifle too low and as soon as the engine struck it the flange of the wheels rode the split point and threw the switch causing the accident as stated. Eastern officials at once made temporary traffic arrangements with the Duluth Union Depot company and their passenger trains for a day or two will leave from and arrive at the Union depot. Conductor Campbell took his train out today at 10 o'clock made up of borrowed Northern Pacific coaches. Railroad men say that the engine crew from death is nothing short of a miracle. Hundreds of people have visited the scene of the accident today.

THE LAND DEPARTMENT.

Reveals a Conspiracy.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 16.—Commissioner Carter recommended Monday that the case against Beatty Bros. and E. C. Long & Co., of St. Paul, for trespass, be settled upon the terms offered by the defendants. All of the witnesses for the government have left for parts unknown and further prosecution would be very difficult. Beatty Bros. have offered to pay the government $150 for the timber taken.

The commissioner has written to the register and receiver at Court D'Alene, Idaho, regarding the ownership of mineral lands claimed by the Northern Pacific company. He says the company takes the wrong view of the law. It is held by the department that the discovery of the mineral character of the land at any time previous to issuance of patent or certification where patent is not required, effectually exonerates such land from a railroad grant which contains a provision excluding all mineral lands.

SENSATIONAL DISCOVERY.

A Search Among Mrs. Terry's Papers Reveals a Conspiracy.

FRESNO, CAL., March 16.—Papers have been discovered here in the safe in Sarah Althea Terry's house, which are said to establish the claim of ex-Judge Terry's friends that his shooting at Lathrop was the climax of a conspiracy to murder. Agents of Porter Ashe Monday went to the Terry mansion and searched the house thoroughly. They found carpets and in private drawers several thousand dollars in coin and paper money, and diamonds and jewelry worth $3000. The safe in Judge Terry's room they had blown open, and in this it is said, the conspiracy was discovered. Terry refused to make public during his life these papers show evidence of a plot to get of

ANOTHER SUGAR COMBINE.

It Involves Millions of Capital and Sugar Refineries in the Country.

PHILADELPHIA, March 16.—It is generally reported that a gigantic deal in sugar has taken place in this city in the last few days which involves millions of capital and some of the largest independent sugar refineries in the country—those of Harrison, Frazier & Co. and that operated by E. C. Knight & Co., Mr. Harrison's partner. The deal is said to be the report and all others who might be able to answer were equally reticent, but the presence in this city of representatives of the sugar trust, who had conferences with both firms, gives color to the report. About an hour after the state of the north wall of the barrel factory fell, a portion of the debris striking Fireman Robert W. Solley and injuring him so badly that he will lose his right leg and perhaps his life.

CORBETT HAS DONE IT.

He Has Put Up the Money and Will Meet John L. Sullivan.

NEW YORK, March 16.—James Corbett, the Californian champion heavyweight pugilist, has shown by a positive act that he was determined to fight John L. Sullivan. He put up money yesterday to the extent of $2500 to bind a match for $100,000 a side.

Electrical Firms Combine.

CHICAGO, March 16.—All the big electrical firms in this city seem to have combined to squeeze the World's Fair. Yesterday was the first chance they had to get their money into the hands of the directors of the exposition. Today was the day to open bids for supplying the exposition with power. It was a battle between 500 and 600 of these lights each of 2000 candle power will be needed in addition to about 1200 of these incandescent lamps of 16 candle power.

The Bond of Matrimony.

OTTAWA, Ill., March 16.—The finale of the sensational arrest of Dr. W. Warren Henry within a few days, or even an hour at Elizabeth, Monday night, was enacted here in Probate Judge Hall's private office yesterday afternoon. The doctor was married to Miss Minnie Iorga, the pretty Fern girl who caused his arrest. It was a case of bride or jail and he chose the bride.

The New Chilean Cabinet.

NEW YORK, March 16.—A Herald special from Valparaiso says that President Montt and his new cabinet will return from Valparaiso to Santiago during the coming week. The composition of the cabinet is excellent and all of the steps of this interesting case from the start.

Silver Bill Will be Settled.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The democratic members of the ways and means committee had a conference yesterday at which it was agreed to allow the silver bill to come up on the 22d and be disposed of in three days agreed upon without interruption by the tariff. When the silver bill is disposed of the tariff bill will again be called up.

Eminent London Scientist Dead.

LONDON, March 16.—Doctor Tidy, the eminent analyst, is dead. The testimony of Dr. Tidy as to the nature of the poison administered had a great deal to do with securing the conviction of Mrs. Maybrick, and his death removes an important, if not essential witness in case his home office should see fit to reopen the case for investigation.

First Boat at Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 16.—Lake navigation is open. The steamer City of Marquette arrived yesterday morning made the first trip across the lake this season and there was nothing pleasant about the voyage either. The 30 passengers who braved the first trip were a most weather beaten set.

The Steamer Indiana Has Arrived.

LIMA, Russia, March 16.—The steamer Indiana, which left Philadelphia on Feb. 22, loaded with flour and provisions for the famine-stricken peasantry of Russia, arrived here this afternoon.

Hanged to a Tree.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., March 16.—A murderer hanged and a deputy sheriff shot dead are the results of the work of an infuriated mob at Forsyth, Taney county, last Saturday.

Missing Editor.

ST. LOUIS, March 16.—The whereabouts of Editor Crawford, of Sedalia, who disappeared from Hurst's hotel last Friday is still a mystery.

The Senate Committee Proposes New War Vessels and a Four Million Appropriation.

Italy Will Send us a Minister; Indemnity Proposed for Italians Killed.

The Price of Coal Falling in London; Strike Likely to End on Monday.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—In the senate today a house bill ratifying the action of the Sixteenth territorial assembly of Arizona involving $30,000 for Arizona's exhibit to the World's fair was passed. Mr. Pettigrew, from the committee on quadricentennial, reported an amendment to be inserted in the sundry civil appropriation bill, appropriating $300,000 for expenses incurred and to be incurred in connection with the World's Columbian exposition. Referred to the committee on appropriation.

MINISTER TO COME FROM ITALY.

Our Government Make Reparation to the Families of Italians Killed.

NEW YORK, March 16.—A Washington dispatch to the Herald says a minister from the kingdom of Italy will present his credentials to President Harrison within a short time, if the information received at the state department is correct. A hint of this was given at the cabinet meeting yesterday and general satisfaction was expressed that our diplomatic relations with the Italian government are to be renewed. It is positively known whether Baron Fava will return or another minister named in his place.

ITS END IN VIEW.

The Price of Coal Falling in London; Strike May End Monday.

LONDON, March 16.—There was an exciting scene in the coal exchange today, it became apparent that the pinnacle had been reached in pushing the price of coal and everybody was waiting to see who would strike the keynote for the downward movement. At length one of the leading firms offered coal at 4s. under the ruling price. It was as if a firebrand had been cast into the crowd. There was a wild rush to follow the leader and coal took a rapid fall. The representatives of Belgium and other countries who have flocked in dozens to the city to take advantage of the situation, are going back to Belgium disgusted. They find that the miners' stoppage has not made London a gold mine for the continental producers.

De Mores Fights a Duel.

PARIS, March 16.—The marquis de Mores and M. Isaacs, sub-prefect of Fourmies, fought a duel with swords yesterday, in which the latter was seriously wounded.

The Board of Public Works.

Capt. Farrell took this place as a member of the board of public works this morning and cigar smoke at the expense of the new official was thick about the building. The reorganization will not take place until some day next week. President Truelsen desires to have a correction of the statement that Engineer Waddell would not be able to present detailed working plans at the bridge hearing. He will not only be there himself but will have plans which will show in detail the projected improvement. It is possible that Morris Thonsh and N. F. Hugo may attend the bridge hearing but they have not yet fully decided.

It is a Success.

The fire department is finding their new aerial truck a very successful machine. There have been no fires during the present month so they have had no chance to test it in actual use. But in practice trials they are now able to raise the first section of it in 30 seconds or so and send it up to its full height in 40 seconds.

The Farmers Alliance Will Patronize the National Union Company. CHICAGO, March 16.—An Inter Ocean special from St. Paul says: If any doubt existed as to where the farmers alliance stands with reference to the National Union Company, it was dispelled last night by the executive committee of the Minnesota alliance which adopted the following in secret session: Whereas, this company has listened to the presentation of the plans of the National Union Company; and Whereas, the said company does not ask the alliance or any of its members to invest a dollar of capital or assume any financial responsibility and pledges the members of the alliance to sell them equally good goods at the same prices charged by other retail merchants and give them a considerable rebate on all purchases besides; and Whereas, the alliance will always have it in its power to crush the said company by withdrawing its support, should it fail to keep its promises, or should it develop any injurious features; therefore, Resolved, that we ask the members of the alliance to give the matter a full and fair hearing and if they are satisfied, to support the union company one year at least as an experiment and see how it works.

Shipwreck and Ten Lives Lost.

LONDON, March 16.—A fearful disaster is reported from the Isle of Wight. The Norwegian brigantine Gudrun, commanded by Capt. Tonnessen, has been wrecked at Tolland, near the western extremity of Wight and not far from the famous Needle rocks. The Gudrun sails from Norway and has been sailing about for any part of the world where a profitable cargo was offered. It is said to have run on the rocks while making for Southampton by way of the Solent. Before assistance could arrive ten of the crew perished. They are said to have been mostly, if not all, Scandinavians.

Philadelphia Barrel Factory Burnt.

PHILADELPHIA, March 16.—At 4 o'clock this morning fire broke out in the barrel factory of W. G. Pennypacker, at Reed street and the entire structure was burned to the ground. Pennypacker leases the building from Claus Spreckles, the sugar refiner. Pennypacker's loss is $60,000; and Spreckles' lost $130,000.

Three Persons Killed in a Colliery Explosion.

VIENNA, March 16.—Fire damp caused an explosion in a colliery near the village of Lilienfeld, near Austria. Three persons were killed and six wounded.

Field Insane.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Judge Van Brunt has decided that Edward M. Field is insane.

GUILTY OF CONTEMPT.

Wm. Boutlier Sent up for Five Days for Lack of Respect.

Wm. Boutlier had an experience this morning which demonstrated to him that though the "mills of the gods grind slowly," they get there after a while. In last December William made a case against one Chas. Mesoff, charging the latter with violating the liquor ordinance. A warrant was issued, the prisoner arrested and the case set for trial, but William never came back and the case had to be dismissed. But he had tampered with the dignity of the law, and though blindfolded, justice managed to "keep case" on him, and this morning William was back on a charge of contempt of court and asked to explain his long absence. He did not do it very well and he was sent to jail for five days to remind him that a "justice mill" is about as dangerous to trifle with as a vigorous buzz saw in poor health. Chas. Anderson and Dan Johnson, plain drunks, were sent up for 10 days. Daniel Barrett was arraigned yesterday afternoon on a charge of grand larceny for alleged stealing of $300 from William Twomey. Barrett will have an examination tomorrow, and in the meantime was sent to jail in default of $500 bail.

Wants His Deed Changed.

Another suit, involving title to Mesaba iron property, was begun today. The case is that against Peter Tate, W. M. Spalding, John Willard et al., and is brought by the Mesaba Iron company. The land involved is the new section 13, 60-13. The plaintiff alleges that in 1874 "Tate, by Spalding, transferred the land to Willard and that in 1882 it was sold by Willard. The deed was made out on a printed form and by some accident the words "all situated in the county of Douglas, state of Wisconsin," were overlooked and the description reads that way. The petition asks that the words St. Louis county, Minnesota, be substituted for those in the deed, and that it be declared the sole owner of the property in question.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.
March 16.—The entire country is covered by area of high pressure, or anti-cyclone, with its center over Maryland, where the maximum pressure is 31 inches.
Cold weather will continue, although it has warmed up some in the extreme Northwest, but that section, as well as far south of it, is still below zero.
Light snow continues over the southwest and in scattered places over the country, but as a general thing the weather of the past few days may be expected for today and tomorrow, at least there is no sign of a low area at present.
The temperature managed to reach the same point yesterday that it did the day before, i.e., yesterday, and during the night dropped to zero, where it was at 7 o'clock this morning.

DULUTH, March 16.—Local forecast for Duluth until 8 a. m. March 17: Continued fair and cold weather.

—B. H. JACKSON, Observer.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Forecast till 8 a. m.
Thursday: For Wisconsin: Partly cloudy, with morning; probably followed by local snows; slight rise in temperature on Thursday, with easterly winds.
For Minnesota and North Dakota: Generally fair; warmer; winds shifting to southerly Thursday.
For South Dakota: Light snows, followed by clearing weather; warmer Thursday; easterly winds.

CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES.

Two changes of our national constitution are now being considerably discussed and have, in fact, been long discussed without any action having been taken, or even attempted, towards taking the steps required for a change of constitution.

The question of restricting a president to a single term has had many advocates. The confederate constitution extended the term to six years, but forbade re-election. The object of this prohibition is, of course, to prevent a president during a first term from shaping things for a re-nomination. As politics now managed this is a serious objection.
On the other hand, it gives an administration which has been on the whole satisfactory the chance for a four years' renewal. There the unwritten rule of practice, first established by George Washington, stops further re-nominations. It comes to this, that a satisfactory president shall have a double term and his subordinates eight years of office as well. An unsatisfactory president is beaten either in convention or by the people. Would not the proposed change simply increase the turmoil of a presidential election, the frequency of change in office?

The other change talked of is the election of senators by the people. That would clearly be a decided improvement. Money has come to figure so largely in legislatures that our national senate is fast becoming a house of millionaires. No doubt the money which now tells so strongly on legislatures could be made to tell strongly on a popular vote, but the millionaire with nothing but his millions to recommend him, would, we think, prefer the chance of an election by a legislature to facing the whole people of a state at a general election.

The Iron Trade Review states that fourteen coke-using iron furnaces have closed, or are about to close within thirty days, about one-sixth of the furnaces of that kind heard from. A number more proposed closing as soon as their stocks of ore are used up. There is, it seems, nearly a million tons of surplus pig iron in the country. While, however, the Northern furnaces are all talking of curtailing work, the Southern furnaces even threaten an increase. The Milwaukee Sentinel maintains that this is due to the fact that the cost of production in the South is 33 a ton less than in the North. Recent developments in the South, as well as the great Mesaba discoveries, indicate that there will probably be great changes in the location of the fields of iron production in the near future. One of the great centers of iron industry on this continent bids fair to be Duluth.

The News of this morning goes into the ancient history of the Ohio gerrym-ander. He admits the Pomker gerrymander. There followed a Democratic gerrymander, and he admits that the present Republican Ohio legislature "have proposed a retaliating gerrymander." In short, he admits the substance of our original charge, that the gerrymander is one of the tricks of the political trade, practiced by both political parties. We consider the practice dishonest, and therefore commended Governor McKinley for having opposed it. The News appears to agree with us on that. Can we also agree in condemning the Republican legislature of Ohio for proposing a scheme which is so partisan and dishonest that a Republican governor feels obliged to antagonize it?

The coal combination is now to be brought to the test in Pennsylvania.
News came by telegraph yesterday that the various companies and railroads which have made the combine are to be prosecuted by the Attorney General of that state for their action, which he pronounces illegal, unconstitutional and void. Now that the oil trust has yielded, or appeared to yield to the decision of the highest court of Ohio, that the whisky trust is under prosecution in the national courts, and that there are rumors of a prosecution of the great meat combine in Chicago, it is about time that Pennsylvania tested the legality of the big coal monopoly just formed. We hope the law will afford some protection to the people against these combinations which enhance the price of the necessaries of life.

The recent Carlton County democratic convention named two solid Groverites as delegates to the state convention.
They are Andy Gowan, of Cloquet, and Hon. Harry Homer Hawkins, of the oil region. As Carlton county is half full of slate quarries it seems likely the boys know what they are talking about, and perhaps they can make a few hierogly-phics themselves. Then, too, if there are any political billows in the convention they will pour upon the troubled waters a little of Carlton county's uncertain substance.

The Sun figures out a clear majority for the Bland bill in the Senate as well as the House. Should none of the senators who voted for free coinage before change their views, it would seem impossible to avoid that conclusion; but, in fact, the craze is clearly on the wane.
As in the case of the greenback craze, the folly of it is coming to be recognized. Still silver is strong in the Senate and that body may give President Harrison an opportunity to veto the bill. And a grand opportunity it would be!

The crop prospects throughout the country are said to be much less promising than last year, and the cold wave of last week is thought to have damaged winter wheat. We are not sure that the smaller crops of the great cereals in the West would prove a real loss to the farmer. Such a result would enable him to clear off all the old crop, and would prevent the danger of a surplus, such as has frequently dragged down prices, though not so very large itself.

The telegraphic narratives about the persistence with which the Duke of Cumberland (son of King of Hanover) refused to give up the birthright of his family for a paltry $6,000,000, turns out as pure a myth as the story of Washington's hatchet or Tell's arrow. In spite of the great oath he is reported to have sworn to his blind father, that he would never, never, etc., he has taken the money and quitted the throne. And, on the whole, he has done a mighty wise thing.

Duluthians will welcome the Sixth district republican congressional convention to this city. The committee at its meeting in St. Cloud yesterday fixed up on Duluth as the place, but the date will be named by the chairman later on. The district convention to elect delegates to Minneapolis will be held at Brainerd on May 3. Thus the two big towns get the conventions while the third, St. Cloud, is the home of Chairman Benson and enjoys equal honors.

Intimate friends of Wm. M. Campbell, chairman of the state democratic central committee, are authority for the statement that he will retire to private and more lucrative employment when the state convention meets. Mr. Campbell has done efficient work for his party and has contributed to such service a large instalment of the time which nature has vouchsafed to him on earth.

The city of Paris has been made exceedingly nervous by recent dynamite explosions. Evidently the irresconciables are making themselves sharply felt there. But it is strange that so much has been attempted and that so little has been accomplished. Evidently the Parisian dynamiter has not half learned his trade.

The St. Paul News under its new management proposes to amble in the front ranks of journalism, all of which pleases us much. Being on a new basis, it has also procured for itself a new heading, and gives forth the impression of rejuvenated existence. Like greatness everywhere it climbs on its dead self to higher things.

The British army estimates for the coming year are $90,000,000; the navy estimates, about $81,000,000; but then Great Britain has no $140,000,000 a year to pay for pensions. Her army costs her a vast deal more proportionally, however, than any other large European army.

John Quincy Adams, colored editor of the Western Appeal, the organ of the colored population of this state, has been black-balled by the St. Paul Press Club.
But ten black balls were cast but these caused his rejection.

SENATOR DAVID BENNETT HILL is touching tions, on his march to the sea. Some think

With the factional fighting over silver legislation, it looks as if the democratic house

KITTEL HALVORSEN TAKES.

But He Doesn't Say Anything to the American Public.
(Washington Star-Paul News.) Hon. Kittel Halvorsen was approached by your correspondent today with a request that he would give readers of the News an interview concerning the alliance members of congress, their aims, purposes, details and prospects. Mr.
Halvorsen absolutely refused to have anything to say.

"This is an important time," suggested the correspondent; "all the representative men are having their say. Your constituents are certainly entitled to your views on public questions."
"I have been misrepresented by the public press," said Mr. Halvorsen.
"That is precisely what I desire to correct," suggested the News man. "I will take down your words exactly as you utter them, and show you the copy.
Then hand the manuscript to the operator in your presence, so that your interview will appear to the public in your own exact phraseology."

"I will not speak to the public," peremptorily circulated the member from the Fifth district.
"But the impression is getting abroad," Mr. Halvorsen, that you do not have any ideas pertinent to public questions."
"I don't care what impression is abroad."

"But the people of your State and district have a claim to know your attitude on great public questions now at issue.
Give me leave to visit you at your boarding house for a general talk."
"I will not talk to the public. I have nothing to say to the public. I have no attitude on great public questions—no attitude that I care to make public."
"Very many estimable statesmen do not follow Mr. Halvorsen's plan with good results."

Astonishing Devotion to Principle.
(Detroit Free Press.)
It was midnight in Washington and a western Congressman sat in the boarding house study waiting for the return of his son.

For weeks the young man had been attentive to a millionaire's daughter, and his father had urged him, as he has always urged the boy, to accept an appropriation bill for a public building in his home town, to marry the girl and copper the rocks, but the son was wrestling with a doubt.

He was in love with a girl who had no money.
This would never have happened if he had not lived in the country until his father had been elected to the present congress.

Young men who have always lived in the city make no such silly mistakes as that.
That night the son had promised his father that, if possible, he would ask the rich girl to be his wife, and the father was waiting impatiently to hear the result of the caucus.

At 12:15 sharp the prodigal returned.
"Well, well," exclaimed the father nervously, "what did she say?"
"I didn't ask her," replied the young man firmly.

"Didn't ask her?" fairly screamed the father. "Do you mean to say you have refused to embrace the golden opportunity of your life, sir?"
"No, father," was the simple answer.
The father was gray with disappointment and there was mildness on his whiskers.

"May I ask why," inquired the father with suppressed excitement, "you have rejected this golden opportunity, sir?"
"Father," murmured the boy, "I am coming close to the old one and taking both his hands in his own. 'It was because I'm a silver man.'"

For an instant the Western congressman's face was hard and cold, then there came to it a flood of sunshine and taking the youth by his hand he kissed him on the forehead and said softly:
"My noble, noble boy."

The Beginning of Spring.
Perhaps you ask you know when spring begins; when does your year commence? See the grass coming up. But unless you are familiar with the old-fashioned almanac, you will not know when water that you do not know that spring begins today. On this day the sun enters the zodiacal sign of Aries, or the Ram, and the vernal season is with us again. In the latitude where the inventors and principal users of the rod (they have been dead a good while) resided, this was about the date they began to plow, and they opened the spring campaign by offering a sacrifice
to the gods for a prosperous year. This
sacrifice usually consisted of a ram, and
he was given a place of honor in the zodiacal sign of Aries, or the Ram, and it is hardly spring here yet, it is time to look up a location for the summer's work, and if you are thinking of moving to the fertile wheat fields of North Dakota, the corn-raising prairie of Nebraska and Kansas, or the mines and ranches of Colorado, South Dakota or Wyoming, The Burlington is the line over when you can get there with speed and comfort. In fact, if you are going any-

THE GREAT COAL MINERS' STRIKE.
The size of the English coal miners strike makes it extremely unwieldy and the prospect would naturally be that the strike could not be long kept up. No strike fund or contributions could long maintain half a million unemployed people.
We also see it stated that a part of those who have stopped work have only done so as a sort of precautionary measure, to give time for using up any existing surplus of coal and to give the market a spare turn; in other words, it seems to have been in part, at least, a movement in the interest of the coal owner as well as in that of the coal miner.

It seems that the long threat of a strike had given to London time for preparation, so that the metropolis was ready for the demand on its reserve coal supply when it came. There was at first a great rise in prices, but, yesterday, they took a tumble and there is no longer fear of a coal famine so far as London is concerned. The most serious results are for the English iron producer and worker. In that country the business is in harder case even than in America. It is in no condition to meet the set-backs and additional burdens which are imposed upon it by the coal strike. In fact the English iron producer will go out of business rather than undertake to pay any materially increased price for coal.

One cannot help thinking, indeed, that there has not been that grave necessity for self-protection which can only justify a strike of the proportion these English labor organizations have brought on.
We read that the English miner has had his wages largely increased in the last four years, and that the present strike is ordered in anticipation of a reduction.
It now looks as if the leaders of the movement had underestimated the strength of the great interests opposed to them as much as they have overestimated their own strength.

The Herald makes the News say the Ohio gerrymander began with Foraker. The editor knows the News said so such thing.
The News statement is perverted and twisted, and the editor maintains a discreet silence upon the Session propounded as to what Democratic governors had expressed, like Governor McKinley, an opinion against gerrymandering. He denies the question as Hill dodged Mr. Hart's silver letter.—Duluth News.

What the Herald actually said was:
"The News of this morning goes into the ancient history of the Ohio gerrymander.
He admits the Foraker gerrymander.
Then followed a Democratic gerry-mander," etc. We certainly did not "make the News say" that Foraker originated the gerrymander in Ohio. Moreover, if anything we did say has discourage our neighbor from proceeding with its daily disquisitions on the iniquity of Democratic gerrymanders, we regret it. They have interested us greatly. Its views of Democracy are to be sure, a little depressing, but its cheerful faith in the inerrancy—we think that is the correct word—of Republicanism, has been worth a journey to Duluth to see.

Special Agent Delambert recommends the establishment of a permanent government post on Rainy Lake river in Northern Minnesota. He estimates that the total cut of pine timber on the Big Fork river and its tributaries since 1882 is about 85,000,000 feet. The illegal cutting on the Red Lake Indian reservation land is placed at 5,782,000 feet. He also states that a syndicate of capitalists is now operating under the firm name of J. E. Tapley & Co., with headquarters at Fort Francis, whose publicly avowed object is to secure the numerous groves of valuable pine on unreserved lands.
Delambert's recommendation is indorsed by the Secretary of the Interior.

A letter from the mother of Mrs. Hetherington, the substance of which appears in a Pennsylvania paper, gives a very different version of the Yokohama tragedy from the one telegraphed. According to Mrs. Hetherington's account, Robinson began paying her, marked attention soon after her arrival in Japan.
These attentions became very disasterous, and, soon after Lieutenant Heth-erington's arrival, she complained about it to him. He spoke to Robinson who promised to desist, but failed to do so.
His impudent behavior at Lieutenant Hetherington's last interview, so angered that officer that he shot him as detailed in the telegraphic reports.

A recent decision of the United States Supreme court has made Gen. C. S.
Warren, of Montana, a millionaire. The matter in dispute was a copper mine which the general considers equal in every way to the Anaconda. The suit has been twelve years in court. When the fight began, either side could have been bought out for $2,000. The opposition could control thirty or forty millions and of course it was a bitter struggle.

John G. Brown, who did eminent service for d'Auremont in the recent municipal campaign, is being mentioned as one of the delegates from this district to the Chicago convention. Mr. Brown is a Cleveland man, a careful political observer, and has been a non-office seeking democratic hustler from away back.

His party in this district is overwhelmingly for Cleveland and could not make a better choice than by accrediting him to the convention at Porkopolis.

ST. LOUIS COUNTY'S SHARE.
Under the plan of the state board of World's fair commissioners by which $100,000 was to be raised by the several counties to aid in making a creditable state exhibit at Chicago, $7300 was assigned to St. Louis. It is expected that the next legislature will make the necessary appropriation for refunding the money. Under these circumstances, and in view of the fact that the most immediate and direct benefit from the exhibit, it ought not to take more than twenty minutes to sink a test pit into the bank accounts of those who are making fortunes out of the new discoveries and extract enough to meet this little obligation. As a business proposition nothing could pay better, and as a matter of local pride our people ought to prove equal to the occasion. Sixty counties have already raised their share, and St.
Louis with mineral riches enough to buy out the rest of the state should not delay her contribution. The money is needed now that definite arrangements for the exhibit may be made at once. The state board and Commissioner Moore should receive solid backing from the iron barons, dukes and kings.

Mr. Smalley, London correspondent of the New York Tribune, says the 30 mile limit in the Bering Sea proposed by Lord Salisbury was based on the recommendation of the British commissioners. Of the most prominent of these officials this correspondent draws this vitriolic pen picture: Sir George Balfour-Powell has excellent intuitions, and a truly British ingenuity of seeing any fact of forming any opinion except from a purely British point of view. He took out with him a large stock of inviolable prejudices and has added to them in Canada and elsewhere.
There could not be a worse adviser for purposes of an amicable settlement of a question in which large business interests are concerned and a large spirit is needed on both sides.

Minnesota congressmen are reported to be all opposed to retaliation against Canada, by repeal of the bonding privilege. Mr. Erastus Wyman also opposes the plan which he thinks would be a two-edged weapon, far more hurtful to Chicago, Detroit, the Twin Cities, Boston and New England than to Canada.
Representative Hall, of this state, is reported as saying:

In case England tries to steal our seal fashion, we Northwesterners will go to as great lengths to prevent the barbarians from doing as they see fit. We do object to having our section bowed down by killing off competing lines of railway to the seaboard to save the profitable franchises of the Alaska Fur company.

The amount of wheat in the farmers' hands in Minnesota and the Dakotas is estimated at about fifty million bushels.
From ten to fifteen million bushels of this wheat is still in shock and is much injured. Deducting about five million bushels destroyed by weather and fifteen more for seed and home use, there will still remain thirty million bushels to be marketed. The reports of the amount of wheat unsold have caused a drop in its price.

The Japanese are having a rough opening experience with the election business. Twenty people are reported killed and 140 wounded in various election riots. The result is not very satisfactory to the government from another point of view. They seem to have but twenty majority in the new parliament counting all independents in their favor.

It is proposed in the senate we see by recent telegrams to invite the Queen Regent and the boy king of Spain to be the guests of the nation at the World's Fair; but when it came to inviting the heirs of Columbus a prudent Senator proposed a census first. Chicago might not be big enough to hold them all.

An inquest into the death of Geo. G.
Robinson at Yokohama, Monday, resulted in a verdict of wilful murder by Lieut. Hetherington. It could not properly have resulted otherwise. The story of Mrs. Hetherington's attending a dinner the night after the shooting is denied.

Yesterday's Pioneer Press has a special telegram to the effect that the House committee on Rivers and Harbors will certainly appropriate $400,000 and probably $500,000 for work the coming year on a twenty foot lake channel.

A sale of 10,240 acres of school lands in North Dakota, Tuesday, was attended by crowds of farmers and the bidding was spirited. The average price paid per acre was $20; $38 per acre was paid for one section.

The telegraphic story about Jay Gould's dealing in castles in Mexico at $7,000,000 apiece lacks confirmation.
We never believed it. It is only the other day that he paid only $35,000 for one or more "mansions in the sky."

The defeat of the bill for consolidating New York and Brooklyn in the New York assembly shows that the times are not ripe for such a scheme. At any rate politics has not yet arranged the deal.

There was a very close vote in the Philadelphia Methodist conference on the question of admitting women to the general conference lately. The vote stood, 101 yeas, to 105 nays.

"Up" in the words of Robert Emmet, "the epitome of the illustrious dead participate in the concerns and cares of earth," St. Patrick will have to get a move on himself today.

The more the wheat investigation drags, the worse it harrows.

The only bird light on the Easter bonnet.

SUPREME COURT SYLLABI.

Several Decisions Just Handled Down by the Court.

The next general term of the supreme court opens April 5, 1892, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the call of the calendar and setting of cases. Every attorney having a case on the calendar should be present or represented, otherwise his case may be continued over the term. To get a case on the calendar return and note of issue must both be filed not later than March 20.

In the case of the city of St. Paul vs. the Milwaukee & St. Paul road for title to part of Broadway and the level the court grants the city a new trial. The syllabus is as follows: The substance of the controversy is over the title and right to the possession of the locus in quo. The principal relief sought is the recovery of the property which is resisted by the defendant. The case falls within the statutory rule, ch. 76, sec. 11, General Statutes, entitling a defeated party in such action to demand a second trial.

The rule is not changed by the mere fact that the plaintiff in his complaint asked additional and incidental relief.
Order refused to strike the formal demand for a second trial from the records is affirmed. VANDERBURGH, J.

QUESTION OF USURY.
John W. Chase and Emma M. Chase, appellants, vs. New York Mortgage and Loan company, respondents. Syllabus: Whether the purchase of securities or other property or the execution of a collateral contract by a borrower in connection with a loan, and as part of the consideration and inducement therefor will make the transaction usurious, is ordinarily to be determined as a question of fact in a trial court. VANDERBURGH, J.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS.
Charles Bank, appellant, vs. Brainerd School District, respondent. Syllabus: School district independent of the state may make part of the educational system of the state. They are corporations with limited powers, and the duties of the trustees or boards of education intrusted with the management and care of the property of such districts are public and administrative only.

They are not liable to individuals for mere neglect or nonfeasance in failing to make repairs. Sec. 117, chap. 36, general statutes 1878, which actions to be brought against trustees in their official capacity has not changed this rule. Order affirmed. VANDERBURGH, J.

CORPORATIONS.
George H. Christian, respondent, vs.
Joseph A. Bowman et al., defendants, Charles P. Hasletine et al., appellants.
Syllabus:
Evidence held sufficient to support certain findings of fact. Gen. laws 1887, chap. 123, was operative and applicable to the case. The findings of fact were valid. The class of corporations therein designated, but that act did not interfere with vested rights or cut off or destroy an existing right of action. The objection that there is a defect of parties, defendant, by reason of the non-joiner of one of several joint defendants, must be taken by answer or it will be deemed to be waived. Rule requires assignments of error to be separately stated and must be based on the facts of the case. A large number of alleged errors cannot be grouped together and treated as one general assignment covering them all. Order affirmed.
VANDERBURGH, J.

A NEW TRIAL.
David A. Sturges, appellant, vs. Thomas Lowry, respondent. Syllabus: In an action, under the statute to determine an adverse claim to real estate, the defendant called upon him by his answer to disclose the nature of his claim or title, which thereupon becomes the subject of adjudication. If he sets up a legal title his proof must be confined to a claim of that character. If the claim is one equitable in character, rules and principles must govern.
Under an avowment of ownership in fee he will not be permitted to show on defense that he has succeeded to an equitable title or interest or to reach property held in trust. Order reserved.

A Very Mournful Ballad.
(Eugene Field in Chicago News).
"Li Hung Chang has the grip,"—Daily Papers.
In the blossoming land of the broad Hwang-Ho, Where the soft, seductive rivers flow,
The royal household is stricken with woe—
The emperor's son has the grip.
Hung Chang, viceroy of the sun and moon,
And various other royal states, Is yearning like a cracked bassoon—Like a mummy's death he has the grip.
For many days must Li Hung lie low, While papal doctors give things to him And pray to the gods for his recovery.
Or put him into bath and saw him.
The recovery comes, but not untold No mortal may go near Hung Chang.
The bulk of the nation are in grief, Lost the bulk of the natives are forced to grieve.

O, son of the sun and the crescent moon,
And Jay Gould of the rest of the space, You'll be fit to row, next night and moon You shall know and sorrow, all you're not in the fact.
Like the Yankee-Klanc your eyes will run, What better the lot of a sick man than O, what better the lot of a sick man than If the son of a gun has not the grip?

A CARD.
To the Editor of The Herald: DEAR SIR:—The Morning News refers to Capt. DeCoursey as being dropped from the detective force for inefficiency, which is doing him an injustice. He was not suspended or dropped out but quit of his own accord and while employed did very efficient work for the city. R.C. specially yours, M. J. Davis, Ex-Mayor.

COLLEGE LOVES HIM.

Statue of the Great Prof.
Phelps Proposed.

A Ready Response From Alumni and the Public.

Brief Sketch of His Career: His Services for Humanity.

The proposition to erect a bronze statue of the late Professor Phelps at Dartmouth college will meet with a ready response not only from the sons of Dartmouth and members of the medical profession everywhere, but also from thousands of grateful people, who will be only too glad to contribute their mites in acknowledgment of his services to the public. Every Dartmouth alumnus of more than ten years' standing remembers the ave in which he held the keen observer whose name appeared in the college catalogue next to that of the president, as Edward Elisha Phelps, M.
D., L. L. D., professor of materia medica, and every younger graduate has admired the complete museum of medical botany which Dr. Phelps gave to the college.

But it was the world-famed discovery of Professor Phelps of an infallible cure for those fearful ills that result from an impaired nervous system and impure blood, which has endeared the great doctor to the world, and made his life an era in the practice of medicine.

Professor Phelps was born in Connecticut in 1805. He graduated from the military school at Norwich, Vt., in 1820.
He studied medicine with Professor Nathan Smith, of New Haven, Conn., and graduated in medicine at Yale in 1824. Impaired health led him to go South for a time, during which he assisted in the survey of the Dismal Swamp Canals, also following his studies in natural sciences, particularly in botany.

In 1828 he began to practice medicine in Windsor, Vt., a town famous for years as the summer residence of many eminent men.

His unusual talent soon brought repatation and prominence among his professional brethren. In 1835 he was elected to the professorship of anatomy and surgery in the Vermont University. In 1841 he was appointed lecturer in materia medica and medical botany in Dartmouth College. The next year he was chosen professor to the chair then vacated by Professor Robby, and occupied the chair, the most important one in the country, for a few years before his death, in 1880.

In the fall of 1861 the promptings of patriotism and his love for military life would not let him be content with the services he could render his own state as a member of the board of administers of surgeons. He went to the front as surgeon of the United States army, and after the Peninsular campaign was assigned to the charge of the military hospital in Kentucky, which was soon known as one of the most perfectly conducted hospitals in the country.

The large per cent of recoveries in it gave him well deserved credit.
At the close of the war, when the country no longer needed his services, he returned to his scientific studies with the ardor of a beginner. He had for years foreseen the dangers of the American way of living. He went about to find out a scientific, common sense remedy to cure the common evils that, under one name and another, result from an unhealthy state of the nervous system, and within a score of years have seemed to be sweeping over the country like an epidemic.

He gave to the medical profession a celebrated remedy, which has since come to be known the world over as Paine's Cerebral Compound.

It was Dr. Phelps' prescription, which ever since has been freely used and prescribed by the most eminent of the profession. The formula was furnished to all reputable physicians. They found the wonderful remedy to be exactly what was claimed for it, a great nerve and brain strengthener and restorer. It was demonstrated beyond doubt that Paine's cerebral compound would cure nervous debility and exhaustion, neuralgia, depression, dyspepsia and all blood diseases.

It was as harmless as it was good, and it was the universal adage of the medical profession that the compound be placed where the general public could secure it, and thousands of people have every year proven the wisdom of this good advice.

The recent advice of Com. Howell to Secretary Blaine to use this compound, which the commodore publicly said had saved his own life, and the published testimonials of Mayor McShane, of Montreal, the poet-author Hardy, George Wright and other men of national reputation has brought the compound into special notice.

As a well-known physician in this city says: "Paine's cerebral compound is not a patent medicine, nor a dangerous drug, it is not a mere tonic; it is not an ordinary nerve—itis far beyond them all.
The diamond is superior to cheap glass."

Did You Ever Think

How much thought and study is required to produce the beautiful patterns and harmony of colorings found in even the most ordinary of Printed Wash Fabrics. We have a grand line of the new things in Spring Wash Goods on our counters and the beautiful shadings and designs are indeed the work of artists; prices are lower than last season and goods are handsomer. It's a good time to pick out these goods now, and make them up when you have time. Beautiful Gingham, Zephyrs, Bedfords, Chererons, Edinbors, Batiste, Cachemires—new things, all of them. Come and see them; they're handsome and cheap. They'll interest you. An entire new line of White Goods, plain, plaid, stripe and fancy, from the cheapest to the best. Price is far lower than others ask, and one particular lot we are selling at 8c a yard, others ask 12½c for. It's a bargain.

CARPETS

We have space to say only a few words on Carpets, but here's the point: We have the largest and best line of Carpets in this city, we except none, and the price is far lower than elsewhere, as is proved from the fact that recently we have secured several contracts for fitting houses and offices with Carpets at our retail prices where others had figured and submitted what they considered very low bids, which shows again that our retail price is fully 15 per cent cheaper than elsewhere and we give you a larger stock to select from. Come and see what beautiful new Carpets we have for a little money. New goods arriving by every train. Call and examine.
